ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I appreciate the contribution and support which various agencies and individuals have provided for the successful completion of this research work. It may not be possible to mention all by name but the following were singled out for exceptional help.

First, it is with immense pleasure that I acknowledge my gratitude to my supervisors, Professor Subramanian V. and Dr. Ramanathan AL. for their scholastic guidance and sagacious suggestions through out this study. Their immense generosity and affection bestowed on me goes beyond their formal obligations as supervisors.

I would also like to thank the Dean, School of Environmental Sciences, JNU for providing excellent research facilities. I am also thankful to Professor Jain, Prof –in-charge, M.Sc. laboratory for providing me access to the M.Sc. laboratory.

I would also like to acknowledge the Indian Council for Cultural Relations (ICCR) and the Kenyan Government for providing me with the scholarship without which this work would have been impossible. I also thank the Vice Chancellor, Jomo Kenyatta University of Agriculture and Technology (JKUAT) for granting me study leave during the study period.

I am thankful to all the people who assisted me in the course of the field work. In particular; the Director, Kenya Wildlife Service (KWS) and the Officer in charge, Forest Department, Elluru, for allowing me to collect the required samples from the study areas. Special thanks to S. Tamil, C Charterjee, Bala Krishna (JNU, India), Kulecho and Jane (KWS, Kenya) for assisting me during the crucial stage of sample collection. Mr Sharma, Venkat, and C. Charterjee (JNU) are sincerely thanked for their assistance in sample analysis. Thanks are also due to Manoj, P. for geo-referencing the sampling sites of the study area.
I wish to express my sincere thanks and gratitude to Dr S. Wickremasinghe (NSF, Srilanka) and Dr. C. Ombuki (KU, Kenya) who proof-read this work and gave suggestions to improve the thesis. I also thank Ms. Sutapa Bose and Mr Umesh for their part in the proof correction.

The acknowledgement would not be complete without mentioning Dr. Manju, Dr. D Charterjee and Dr. Madthuvan, Dr Abhay K., Sunil, Bala, Annshumali, Seema, Pawan and all the labmates for their support and encouragement during my study period. My sincere thanks to Tamil for helping me give this thesis the final shape.

The moral support given by the following individuals, Riechi A., Agaya B., Chiputa, Felicita N., Shri, Zanzini, N. Ongararo, D., Bendanglila, Venkat, Salvi and all my batch mates made my stay in India pleasant.

Special thanks to Mrs. Wandati (JКUAT) for her continuous encouragement through out my stay in India.

I would like to mention with gratitude the moral support, prayers and constant encouragement given by my family members.

Glory and Praise to the Almighty God for the opportunity to study in India and for seeing me through the study period.

Joyce W. Njenga.
