ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First and foremost I would like to thank my supervisor Dr Ritu Priya Mehrotra for sparing her valuable time and sincere supervision. Her active support and guidance made me possible to complete the thesis work. Her critical remarks, pragmatic suggestions and above all her patience were constant source of challenge and inspiration. I express deep sense of gratitude to my supervisor.

The course work in JNU helped to analyze and strengthen my understanding of social medicine and community health. I thank Prof. Debabar Banerji, Prof. Imrana Qadeer, Dr KR Nayar, Dr Rama Baru, Dr. Mohan Rao, Dr Sanghamitra Achariya, Dr. Rajib Dasgupta and Dr Alpana Dayasagar from Center of Social Medicine and Community Health, for their advice and suggestion during course work, data analysis and thesis writing. Mr. Anil Gupta, Mr. Sirsikar, Ms. Rastogi and Ms. Malobika provided constant support by means of providing necessary documents and encouragement, which made my work easier and smooth. I am indebted to them.

I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude to all my informants and respondents in the study villages. They gave me valuable time and effort to get all required data. Their hospitality and cooperation masked exhaustion on account of tedious fieldwork. Block and district health officials, public health engineering department and panchayat and local political leaders extended all possible supports. I am truly grateful to them.

I express my sincere thanks to the scientists of Bose Institute, Salt lake Campus and IPGMER, (Kolkata) for technical support and familiarizing me on screening and clinical examination of arsenic sufferers. Their support helped me to fulfil the objectives of my study. University Grants Commission (UGC) granted scholarship to support my research and indeed without the financial aid I could not start my Ph.D. program.

I cannot forget my friends from JNU, who supported, encouraged and advised to improve my research work. They were Mr. Partha Sarathi Mondal, Dr. Andrew Michael Lynn, Dr. Buddha Deb Biswas, Dr. Datta, Dr. Faheem Hassan Sahed, Dr. Paul Chepkuto and Dr. Charles. I have been lucky enough to work in such a unique academic environment in the university campus.
I am grateful to my brother Anindya and brother-in-law Anup to learn and improve computer skill, which included data processing, data analysis etc. Mr. EP Anthony and Mr. Kaushik Das Gupta, who spared their valuable time to type and edit my thesis and contributed to improve its quality. I am grateful to their sincere effort.

Dr. Harry Caussy, Ms. Debashri Mukherjee, Dr. Som Shankar Ghosh, Ms Sanghamitra Chakraborty and Mr. Anand supported by providing important documents, suggestions, which immensely helped in my study.

The unconditional support of my parents and family was my constant inspiration. Preeti, my wife whose emotional support was main driving force to accomplish this task.

I am grateful to almighty GOD, whose constant blessing helped me to overcome several obstacles and hence I could complete my task.
