ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In successfully completing a major study like the present one, scores of individuals as well as institutions come to the aid of the author. It is difficult to record my gratitude individually to all these persons and institutions; however, it is not to belittle their contribution for the completion of this study.

Needless to say that I owe my profound gratitude to Dr. C.P. Bhambri, my Supervisor, for his unfailing guidance and inspiration throughout. His scholarly guidance and way of analysing the problem gave me the necessary perspective and direction for my study.

I am extremely grateful to Mr. Braja Mohan Mohanty, ex-Speaker and Mr. Nilkanth Bath, Secretary of Orissa Legislative Assembly for their valuable suggestions and help throughout the completion of this work.

I am grateful to my respondents - the members of the Orissa Legislative Assembly, 1974-77 and other prominent political leaders of Orissa - for their excellent response and willing cooperation. Since informations gathered from them were of confidential nature, I am unable to record their names here and express my indebtedness to each of them individually. I hope they could appreciate this difficulty and overlook my omissions.

Besides the respondents, I record my gratitudes to the Librarians and the staff of the O.L.A., various Party offices, Orissa Archives, Orissa Museum Library, Newspaper offices at Cuttack, Sapru House Library, Parliament library, Election Commission, Nehru Memorial Museum Library and the Jawaharlal Nehru University Library, who very kindly made available to me for study and reference the files and documents related to my study. Without their cooperation and help, I could not have covered an important aspect of my work.

This study has been greatly benefitted from my education at the Centre for Political Studies. I am grateful to the faculty of the Centre for the encouragement and stimulation in the preparation of this work. I am, however, alone responsible for any deficiencies in it.
Finally I express my thanks to Mr. S.D. Nalanti, who helped me in the statistical processing of my work and Mr. Gajanan Hegde, who ungrudgingly and bravely took the pains in typing out various drafts of this Thesis.

Financial assistance in the form of Junior Research Fellowship from the University Grants Commission is appreciated.
