ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The author takes this opportunity to express his extreme gratitude to Professor D.P. Sadhu, Ph.D. (Missouri) of the Department of Physiology and Nutrition, Bengal Veterinary College, Calcutta, who guided him during the course of the present investigation.

Grateful thanks are due to Professor P.B. Sen, P.R.S., and Dr. S.R. Naitra, D.Phil., of the Department of Physiology, Calcutta University, for their interest and advice.

Sincere thanks are also due to Dr. B.B. Ghosh, Dr. O. Deb, Dr. A. Ghosh, Dr. A.K. Chaudhuri and Mr. A.C. Chaudhuri for their kind help and encouragement in the course of the investigation.

The author sincerely acknowledges the valuable technical help rendered by Sri S. Mondal, Sri D. Roychaudhuri, Sri A.K. Goswami, Sri P.C. Roy, Sri M. Mozumder, Sri Mridula Basu, Sri Iva Chatterjee, Sri Ira Roy and Sri Pratima Goswami.