

Acknowledgments

With sincere respect and utmost regards I thank my supervisor Dr. S. S. N. Murthy, for his guidance, constant support and encouragement throughout my research period. His in-depth knowledge in the subject, valuable suggestions and continuous monitoring have made my thesis work possible.

I specially thank Dr. Subir Kumar Sarkar who had been my research supervisor, during the initial period of two years, who helped me in gaining the knowledge of basic research skills. I thank Prof. Himadri Bohidar and Prof. Rajiv Bhat for their invaluable comments which helped in improving my thesis. I also thank SPS faculty for enabling me to have a better understanding of the subject. CSIR and UGC fellowships have been very supportive in carrying out my thesis work without any financial worries.

I duly acknowledge the experimental facility provided by School of Environment Sciences, JNU and Textile Department, IIT New Delhi for testing my samples in the last phase of my thesis work.

My labmates Madhusudan Tyagi, L. P. Singh and Jainendra Kumar have been very cooperative and helpful in various ways during my research period in the laboratory and I am thankful to them.

Jaffer, my labmates L. P. Singh and Jainendra Kumar and Narbahadur need to be specially mentioned for effectively typesetting my thesis.

Doing PhD in sciences in politically sensitive JNU campus has been a great learning experience and an exposure to social sciences. Anjana, Navendu, Niladri, Khuram, Santosh, Rashid, my Keralite friends and many others made my stay on campus pleasant and memorable.

Last but not least, my PhD would not have been possible without the encouragement and emotional support of my family members. They have been my source of confidence and strength all through.
