Acknowledgement

First of all I thank Allah with whose mercy it was possible for me to carry out this study in spite of unfavorable conditions.

I express my indebtedness to my supervisor Dr. Shehroz. A. Rizvi for his able guidance, comments, criticisms and encouragement and without whose precious time and sincere efforts this work would never have been possible.

I want to thank Prof. Nisar A. Khan, Chairman, Department of Economics, who has provided me with invaluable guidance and academic support in the department. My sincere thanks are also due to my respected teachers Prof. Ashok Mittal, Prof. Nighat Ahmed, Prof. Izhar Ahmad, Prof. Noman Ahmad, Dr. Mohd Saeed Khan, Dr. S.M.Jawed Akhtar, Dr. Abdus Salam, Dr. Azam Khan and Dr. Mohd Asif for their valuable support during my research work.

I want to thank my seniors, my fellow research scholars as well as friends who helped me a lot during my research.

Lastly I want to dedicate this thesis to my parents whose contributions cannot be put into words and whose love and sacrifice can never be repaid back. I am also thankful to my Parents in Law for their blessings and support. I owe my wife, son and daughter a lot for bearing with me during my research period.

Faraz Ahmad