Acknowledgements

It gives me immense pleasure to recollect the time and efforts spent in making of this thesis. The best part of it, I was not alone in this journey and so many people helped in different aspects.

First and foremost is Prof. E. Haribabu, my research supervisor, who guided me to complete this diesis. I sincerely thank him for giving me an opportunity to work with him. Also he allowed me to have the freedom of thought in producing this thesis and this has resulted in real creative work.

I am thankful to Professors - Chandrasekhar Bhat, GS Aurora, Ratna Naidu, Kochar, Dr Lakshminarayana, Dr AK Imadi, Dr. Vijayatiakam, Dr Vinod Jairath, Dr. Shasheej and other faculty members of the department of sociology who have introduced me to the world of sociology. Formal learning is equally important as informal learning. I had lot of informal learning from many of my classmates and colleagues. I thank all my classmates for being a source of knowledge and inspiration.

I have no words to express my gratitude towards my family members and my wife Dr Aparna has been an immense source of motivation and guiding force behind my thesis. Thanking is a small word for my daughter Mahati who allowed me to work on my thesis and she was kind enough to spare me to work (otherwise the same quality time I would have spent with her especially when she is growing up). My Mother and Father were great source of inspiration for me and without their blessings I would not have reached this stage. A special thanks to my elder sister Dr Choodamani, who introduced me to the world of sociology. I can not forget the genuine concern and help extended by my younger sister Theju and my brother Jayakrishna. My in-laws’ moral support can not be equated with simple thanks but I will not forget their support and motivation in completion of my thesis. Also I am thankful all my family members who supported and helped me in many ways in the process of producing this thesis.

Interorganisational Collaboration and Software Development
I thank all my friends and colleagues who helped me - directly and indirectly - at various stages in production of this thesis. I thank - Kamesh, Raghava Reddy, Nagalakshmi, Sagar, MS Srinivas, (HCU friends) and Khalid Al-Rajhi, Shams, Mansoor, Krishna Murthy, Ramana, and Dr Anil.

The information for this thesis was collected from various sources. I thank HCU library staff, especially Phanikar for providing right help at right time. Also special thanks to PVS Kumar and Joshi of NISTADS, New Delhi.

Finally I am grateful to all those unsung heroes whose contributions was immense.
