ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am greatly indebted to my Supervisor and Chairperson, ZHCES Prof. (Mrs) Sushila Singhal for her constant intellectual support, invaluable suggestions and regular encouragement at all stages of in the preparation of this thesis. I acknowledge her contribution with reverence and gratitude.

I am also grateful to the faculty of ZHCES, especially Prof. S.C. Ghosh, Prof. Karuna Chanana, Prof. Tapas Mazumdar and Dr Geeta Nambisan for their whole-hearted support and timely assistance on many occasions.

I express my sincere thanks to Shri Taradutt, Joint Secretary, Tribal Welfare Department, Government of Orissa; Shri Bijoy Kumar Singh, Additional District Magistrate, Mayurbhanj, Orissa and Shri N.P. Das, Project Director, Integrated Tribal Development Agency, Mayurbhanj for all the help and assistance rendered by them during my field study.

My special thanks are due to Ms K. Sujatha, NIEPA, New Delhi; Mr P.K Mohanty, Planning Commision, Government of India and Shri R.C. Mohapatra for providing valuable research publications and thematic suggestions during the course of the study.

The Tribal Development Division, Ministry of Welfare, Government of India provided the research fellowship for this study and I am highly indebted to them for this gracious and generous gesture.
I take this opportunity to express regards to my brother Shri S.K. Nanda, IAS and Sister-in-law Smt. U. Nanda, IAS for being the constant source of inspiration during the hectic working period. My parents and other family members also took considerable pain in sharing my tensions. Thanks are also due to my husband and parents-in-law for showing great interest in my work.

Last but not the least, I would like to thank my friends Tapaswini, Ramesh, Mary, Joy, Venkatesh, Indrani, Uma, Nivedita, Archana and Manogyan for their help and support.

Arati Nanda
(Arati Nanda)