Contents

Acknowledgements iii-v
List of plates vi
Maps vii-viii

Chapter One: Introduction 1-63

The earliest wall painting tradition
Buddhist mural painting tradition
Survey of literature
The scope of the research

Chapter Two: Cultural and religious interactions between India and Sri Lanka during the ancient period 64-124

Prehistory of Sri Lanka
Historic periods
Buddhist interactions
The traditional view and the sphere of art

Chapter Three: Chronology, location and historicity of the sites of the Buddhist mural paintings of peninsular India and Sri Lanka 125-206

Commencement of Buddhist painting tradition
Chronology and location of the Buddhist mural paintings:
Sites in India:
- Ajanta caves
- Bagh caves
- Ellora caves

Sites in Sri Lanka:
- Karambagala
- Sigiriya
- Vessagiriya
- Hindagala
- Gonagolla
- Pulligoda cave – Dimbulagala
- Dambulla
- Vestibules (Vahalkadas) of Anuradhapura
- The relic chamber of Mihintale stupa
- The relic chamber of Mahiyangana stupa
- Sutigara cetiya, Dadigama
- Northern (Tivamka) temple of Polonnaruva
- The Galviharaya
- The Lamkatilaka
- Potgulvehera
- Maravidiya of Dimbulagala
Chapter Four: Narrative styles and the special characteristics of the paintings

207-278

Compositional arrangements and the narrative styles of the paintings of India
Styles and the compositional arrangements of the paintings of Sri Lanka
Painted labels
The human form
The lines and the draughtsmanship
The colours and their application

Chapter Five: The techniques, plasters and pigments of the murals and the instruments of the painters

279-345

The canons of painting
The support and the ground of the paintings
The technique
The pigments and the binding medium of the paints
Instruments of the painters

Chapter Six: The themes of the Buddhist paintings and the canonical texts

346-433

Identification of the themes of paintings
The Jataka stories
The life story of the Buddha
The concepts of thousand Buddhas, Bodhisattvas and divine beings
Other themes
Buddhist canonical texts

Chapter Seven: Social context of the paintings

434-516

Painting in society: The painters and their social status
The concept of patronage and the patrons of paintings
Perspectives of the donors, painters and the monks
Society in painting: Painting as a source

Conclusion: 517-533
Bibliography: 534-586
Plates: I-XXVII