I am indebted to Prof. Ehsanul Haq for supervising my thesis. Any acknowledgement of gratitude to him in words will not suffice here. His encouragement and guidance has been of great help in preparation of this study. While allowing me the freedom to pursue my ideas, he has printed out my inconsistencies with patience and kindness.

I am also indebted to the Chairperson of the centre and Chairperson of Dr. Ambedkar chair. Prof. Nandu Ram for his keen interest in my academic career, and grateful to the faculty members and staff of Centre for Study of Social systems, for their encouragement and help at various levels.

I am also indebted to Prof. S.K. Thorat, Centre for the Study of Regional Development, for giving me valuable suggestions and introducing me to new and rare sources.

I am also thankful to the District Magistrate and Deputy Development Commissioner of Aurangabad district and sub-Divisional officer and Block Development officer of Daudnagar, their staff and also non-officials without whose help the study could not have been completed.

I am also thankful to Baidya Nath Prasad (Advocate of Daudnagar) and his families members who provided me shelter, gave me all kind of helps during the fieldwork and without whose help the fieldwork could not have been completed smoothly.

I take this opportunity to express my gratitude to the Librarian and staff of Jawaharlal Nehru University, A.N. Sinha Institute of Social Studies of Patna, Census Registrar, Pushpa Bhawan, New Delhi for allowing me to consult the necessary material.
I am most indebted to my family, especially my parents. I am also grateful to my brother Harendra and ‘Bhabhi’, the visionaries who are a constant source of strength to me. My sister Mrs. Manju and brother – in – law Dr. Vijay are also a source of strength to me.

And last but not the least, I express my heartily thanks to Dr. Chinna Rao, Vijayshree, Dr. Lakhan Gosai, And Shalini who have read my manuscript and proofread of my thesis. I am also thankful to all my friends particularly Habibullah, Himanshu, Abhay, Umakant, Shakti, Rajee, Jyotish, Shivasankar, Prem for their help and cooperation. Finally, I extended my sincere thanks to Sanjay Computers who typed out the thesis so neatly.

RABINDRA KUMAR

RABINDRA KUMAR