ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I express my deep sense of gratitude to my respected supervisor Dr. D.K. Singh, Reader, Department of Zoology, Udaipur Pratap Autonomous College, Bhojubeer, Varanasi, for suggesting the problem, formulating the idea of research and for providing me time to time helpful guidance during the entire tenure of research. I am also thankful to his wife for her kind and admirable behaviour.

I would like to express my great debt of gratitude to respected Sir Dr. H.S. Gundevia, Reader and Head, Department of Zoology, Harish Chandra P.G. College, Varanasi for his keen interest in the present investigation and constant encouragement at every step. He has also provided his valuable time and necessary suggestions about my research work. This thesis work never have been possible without his untiring assistance, meticulous attention, sincere opinion and affectionate attitude. I am also thankful to his wife Mrs. Kashmira H. Gundevia for her patience, loving and admirable behaviour and providing necessary suggestions about this research problem.

I am greatful to Mr. R.K. Sinha, Sr. Supdt (MTP/O&E), NTPC Ltd. Anta Gas Power Project, Baran, Rajasthan for giving me valuable recent knowledge about different types of pollution and by providing me current literature on the subject.

I am also thankful to Dr. S.C. Srivastava of Industrial Toxicology
Research Centre, Lucknow for giving me necessary suggestions about the current research plan.

Further the author is also grateful to Dr. B.B. Singh Principal, Udai Pratap Autonomous College, Varanasi for providing me necessary laboratory facilities during the research work.

I am also very much thankful to Dr. Krishna Nigam, Principal, Sri Agrasen Kanya Autonomous P.G. College, Varanasi for her continuous encouragement during whole of the study.

I express my heartiest appreciation to Dr. A.K. Gupta, Reader and Head of Department of Botany, S.B.P.G. College Baragaon, Varanasi for his deep sense of interest in my work and providing me voluable suggestions.

I express my heartiest thanks to my Colleagues Dr. (Mrs.) Archana Ghosh, Dr. (Mrs.) Rashmi Singh and other members of the Department of Zoology, Sri A.K. Autonomous P.G. College, Bulanala, Varanasi for their constant help and encouragement along with their best wishes.

Finally I am very much thankful to my nephew Mr. Pravar Kumar Srivastava for his help during photography and sampling work.

(Mrs. Sangeeta Srivastava)