ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

First of all, I would express my heartfelt and endless gratitude to Almighty Allah who has always been kind and merciful all through the journey of my life. His presence in every phase of my life has given me the strength and courage to continue with determination in realising my dreams.

I am grateful to Prof. N.A.K. Durrani, Dean and Chairman, Faculty of Social Sciences, Department of Social Work, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh. Who has shown his concern and extended all his possible support for me. I consider myself very fortunate to be under his constant encouragement and confidence building which really paved the way for the completion of this research work.

Words cannot express the deepest sense of reverence and indebtedness to my mentor and guide Dr. Naseem Ahmad Khan, Assistant Professor, Department of Social Work, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh, for his constant support and encouragement at every step of the research work which, at the outset, seemed impossible for me to complete. Without his inspiration and continued patronage, could never have succeeded in completing this task. He supervised my work with great patience and always provided direction to my efforts.

Words also elude me when I try to express the debt I owe to Dr. Khusro Chishty Department of Business Administration, A.M.U, Aligarh, who immensely helped me in pursuing this research work. I am thankful to him for his personal sympathy towards me. I am very much thankful to him for his support throughout this research work.

I wish to express my sincere gratitude to all my teachers whose noble efforts have shaped my thoughts and ideas, I am also highly indebted to Dr. Mohd. Tahir, Mr. Arif Khan, Ms. Shyna Saif, Ms. Midhat Zaidi, Ms. Andleeb and all non-teaching staff members of the Department of Social Work, A.M.U. Aligarh, they were always very helpful and encouraging to me.

I am also highly obligated to the respondents of this study who were the primary source of information needed for this research work.

I am also deeply beholden to my mother Mrs. Adla Jeelani, mother-in-law Dr. Majida N. Khan and all my family members for their love and constant support at every step of my life. They always stood with me like pillars of strength to encourage, support and motivate where I felt low.

It would be failing in my duty if I do not mention the help and cooperation extended to me by Dr. Asif Akhtar, Department of Business Administration, A.M.U. Aligarh, and Mr. Tarique Najmee Department of Social Work, A.M.U. Aligarh.

I would like to express my deepest thanks to my husband Mr. Tajwar Ahmad Khan whose contribution in the completion of this research work is as much his as mine, the presence and alluring smile of my children Mairah Ahmad and Yusuf Ahmad Khan always created the air of hope whenever sadness surrounded me.

Last but certainly not least, I extended my thanks to all my friends who were always with me whenever I needed support.
