ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

My profound gratitude goes to our Professor and Head of the Department of Psychology, Dr. E.I. George, M.A., Ph.D. (London), an academician of the highest calibre. His constant help and guidance have been a real inspiration for this work.

Dr. P. Gopala Pillai, my supervisor and guide has been the resource person for this work at all stages. He guided my work with remarkable initiative and insight. In the many discussions I had with him, his guidance was sure and illuminating, his patience inexhaustible. I owe him a deep debt of gratitude for his untiring help.

I thank Dr. B. Dharmangadan, Lecturer in Psychology for his concern and care, for the help given to me in my work, especially at the time of analysis of data. I am grateful to Dr. V. George Mathew, Reader in Psychology who helped me in preparing and translating the schedule. I give my thanks to all members of the staff of the department of psychology and to my colleagues.

I have to make a special and grateful mention of the assistance I have received at the hands of the Superintendents of Mental hospitals and specialist psychiatrists working in various hospitals, who were willing and so ready to share their experience. Their valuable suggestions and the interest they have so kindly taken, have made this study possible. My thanks are due to
Dr. N. Prabhakaran, Dr. M.K. Basheer, Dr. S. Santhakumar, Dr. Baker Fenn, Dr. Ramachandran Nair, Dr. N. Vijayan, Dr. M. Sivakumar, Dr. K.A. Kumar, Dr. M.P. Unnikrishnan Nair, Dr. V.M.D. Namboothiri, Dr. Jacob M. Innah, and Dr. V.K. Alexander. Whenever I approached them to get suitable cases, they were invariably sympathetic and helpful, and made arrangements and provided the facilities for the study.

My grateful thanks to the University of Kerala for making it possible for me to take up and complete this study by giving financial aid.

My thanks to everyone who in different ways helped me with advice and encouragement.

I.C. LICYAMMA.
