ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and foremost, I express my sincere gratitude to my research mentor, Dr. S.D. Bonde, M.Sc., Ph.D., F. B. S., F.Ph.S., Scientist 'E', Department of Palaeobiology who believed that I had the potential to do research. He helped me in growing as a research student with his precious support, constructive criticism and with care for minute morpho-anatomical details of the fossils that I have investigated. I consider myself very fortunate to work under his guidance at the well known and well established Maharashtra Association for the Cultivation of Science - Agharkar Research Institute, Pune.

I am thankful to Dr. Mrs. P.P. Kanekar, Acting Director and Dr. V.S.P. Rao, Former Director, Agharkar Research Institute, Pune for extending the research facilities, institutional fellowship and freedom for participating in the scientific activities during my research tenure.

I am extremely thankful to Dr. N.V. Biradar, Former Professor & Head, Department of Botany, University of Pune; Dr. A.R. Kulkarni, Former Professor & Head, Department of Life Sciences, University of Mumbai; Dr. (Mrs.) Shyamala Chitaley, Curator & Head, Palaeobotany, Cleveland Museum of Natural History, University of Cleveland, Ohio, U.S.A. and to Dr. Manju Banerjee, Former Professor & Head, Department of Botany, University of Kolkata for their critical suggestions and encouragement from time to time.

It is my pleasant duty to thank sincerely to my colleagues in the Palaeobotany unit. Mr. Pradeep Gamre, Miss Manjusha Nigudkar and Mr. Dinesh Nipunage who have helped me in many ways in compiling this work.

I record my profound gratitude to Dr. C. Rajshekhar, Incharge, Palaeobiology Group and to Dr. K.P.N. Kumaran, Dr. V.D. Borkar, Dr. K.G. Kulkarni, Mr. C.M. Awere, Mr. S.S. Deshmukh, Mrs. B.A. Majgaonkar, Mr. B.A. Kawthekar of the group for their help in one way or the other during this course of study.

I would like to thank Dr. Naresh Chandra Mehrotra, Director, Birbal Sahni Institute of Palaeobotany, Lucknow, for the library facilities and accommodation during my stay at the Birbal Sahni Institute of Palaeobotany, Lucknow. I would also like to thank Dr. J.S. Guleria, Dr. R.C. Mehrotra and Dr. (Mrs.) Rashmi Srivastava, who helped me in the procurement of the literature.

I am thankful to Dr. Paul Kenrick, Curator of Palaeobotany Section of the Natural History Museum, London and Dr. S. N. Kulkarni, Librarian, Agharkar Research Institute for their help in the procurement of some of the literature.

I would like to thank Mrs. Hemlata S. Bonde for her help in the procurement of literature from the Jayakar Library, University of Pune and also for the kind hospitality that I received whenever I had been to the house of Dr. S.D. Bonde.
I express my sincere thanks to Dr. V.R. Gunale, Professor and Head, Department of Botany, University of Pune and to Dr. (Mrs.) K.R. Gandhe, Modern College, Pune for the constructive suggestions they made from time to time. Thanks are due to Dr. R.V. Gandhe for his help in the identification of the fossil fungus.

I record my sincere thanks to Dr. D.K. Kulkarni, Dr. (Mrs.) A.S. Upadhye and Mr. M.D. Chavan, my colleagues in the Botany Department for their help during the field work for collection of fossil and living material.

I am highly obliged to Dr. M.V. Garad, Director and Dr. R. Krishnamurty Former Director, Forensic Science Laboratory Kalina, Santakruz (E), Mumbai, for encouragements and allowing me to continue my research work after my joining the Forensic Science Laboratory, Mumbai. I would like to express my sincere thanks to the officers, colleagues and staff members of the Biology Division, Forensic Science Laboratory, Mumbai for their continuous support and encouragements.

I am extremely thankful to my teacher Shree Balaji Pandurang Kate from the Primary School Hadoli, District Latur, Maharashtra, for his continuous educational encouragement right from my school days.

I express my special word of thanks to Dr. G.K. Wagh, Dr. Mahesh Shindikar, Dr. Sachin Punekar, Dr. (Mrs.) Ruta Limaye, Dr. Pramod Reddy, Mr. Rajdeep Dongre, Mr. Subhash Gaikwad and Mr. Padmanabh Mishra for discussion and timely help.

My acknowledgements would remain incomplete if I do not mention the help that I received from my family members and relatives. It is their love, blessings, continuous encouragement and support that kept me paving my educational path and complete this research work. I really admire and appreciate the moral support, sincere blessings and patience shown by my father Mr. Vyankatrao Chate. I would like to dedicate this Ph. D. work in the fond memories of my mother Late Sou. Tejabai Vyankatrao Chate who is a constant source of encouragement.

Sudhakar Vyankatrao Chate
