ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In the batch of 1994 (M.Phil) I was the only one to be registered under Prof. R.C. Sharma for my Ph.D. Indeed, I was very lucky and fortunate because a month later after my confirmation to Ph.D. programme, Prof. Sharma retired from JNU, after his distinguished academic career of thirty years. So, I became his last research student of his JNU academic career. Prof. Sharma established the political Geography Division of the Centre of International Politics, Organisation, and Disarmament in the School of International Studies. Under his able guidance, research in Political Geography got an impetus, which had been lacking, apart from the paucity of research work in this field. Hundreds of Ph.D's (I am sure Prof. Sharma must have lost count!) have been accomplished under his supervision. This has certainly added up to the knowledge and advancement of political Geography in India and the credit goes to Prof. Sharma. And I am proud to be his 'last student' to submit my thesis under his able guidance. Apart from being a source of inspiration in my research work, Prof. Sharma's 'unmatched affection for his students' has always overwhelmed me and has won him the popularity amongst his students.

He has always been encouraging and never got tired of helping us out whether academically or otherwise. I deeply acknowledge and thank him for all his guidance, help, advice and affection!!

I gratefully acknowledge Dr. S.S. Deora for his assistance and support in the completion of this thesis.

I am grateful to Dr. Kaul and Mr. Chadha of Ministry of Environment and Forests for providing relevant information and material.

Eight years of stay in JNU has been a very enriching experience of my life. The academic environment, stimulating discussions and exchange of ideas with my friends and Professor has helped shaped my thoughts and ideas on lot many issues. This fruitful stay in JNU also gave lot of precious and dear friend to me and all of them have a special place in my heart, for they stood by my side, helped me in my time of crisis and for the wonderful time that we all had together; viz; Shubhra Thange, Naina, Katoch, Shilpee, Banita, Vinayak, Manju, Nidhi, Shobha, Sunita Diwaniyan and Krishan Singh. I will always Cherish, the moments spent with them. One friend who has stood by my side and helped me throughout has been Krishan. But for his HELP, I would not have been able to submit my thesis on time.
My parents have been my biggest pillar of strength. Their moral and emotional support, prayers and blessings has seen me through many crisis and I owe the completion of my thesis to them. I would not have been able to complete my thesis without taking an extension, had not my brother, Mahesh encouraged and 'pushed' me around in working hard to accomplish the task. I thank my Sister-in-law Suman, my sister Lakshmi and my brother-in-law Jyotirmoy, for extending all possible help and moral support. Finally special thanks to my little nephews and niece, Rahul, Gaurav, Vishal and Bipasha who cheered me up and lifted my spirits up whenever I got tired of working on my thesis.

My thanks are also due to Govind, Mohan, Narayan and Surender of Akanksha Computers, for typing my thesis patiently and neatly.
