ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is extremely simple to feel thankful to people for all their help, but penning down the exact feeling seems a formidable task, especially when the feeling is just to intense to be expressed. But, nevertheless, I would make an attempt to express my gratitude to everyone who has been even in the slightest way does not contributed towards making my thesis a reality. The order in which I write, does not in any way mean to undermine anyone's contribution and each person who has even in the smallest way contributed to my thesis, has a place in my mind and heart.

Very naturally, the first important person who has been most involved my Ph.D. work, is my Ph.D. Supervisor, Prof. Kasturi Datta. She always gave me a free hand when it came to carrying out experiments and was very encouraging at every step. I cannot thank her enough for her keen interest and involvement in my project. Her direction and support in my applying for DAAD Scholarship and for going to Germany, has been a very wonderful thing for me, both as a person and as a professional. I thank her for that too.

Thank you to Dr. T.G. Cooper - although he was not my supervisor officially, but has guided me like one during my 6 months stay at IRM, Munster, Germany. Never ever did I feel that I was in a guest worker the institute whether it was to do with guidance or with resources. Even personally, Dr. Cooper and his family, Ching Hei and Bryan always gave me a feeling of “home” away from my home.

I wish to thank Prof. Dr. E. Neischlag for accepting me as a “guest worker” at IRM, Munster, Germany and encouraging at every step during my stay in Germany.

Prof. Asis Datta, Vice Chancellor of JNU, receives my gratitude for not only letting me utilize the facilities in JNU and work comfortably but also for granting me the permission to go on the DAAD Scholarship for 6 months to Germany.

I owe my thanks to Prof. D.K. Banerjee (present Dean) and his predecessors, Prof. J. Subba Rao, Prof. V. Rajamani, Prof. V. Subramanian and Prof. P.S. Ramakrishnan for making available the school facilities in the past 7 years of my stay in SES and for their constant concern and guidance. I must thank Dean, SLS also, for letting me use SLS CIF facility.

I wish to thank the following faculty for their guidance, concern and help in my work.

Guidance is the most important thing that one requires initially, before getting streamlined into the system and that is what I got from my Seniors at the Lab: Sripriya, Mastan, Tushar, Richa, Jilani Ji, Sneha Di, Reena, Ratna Madam and Anuradha Di.
Perfect harmony laughter, comfort; help, guidance, respect, love and healthy criticism; all these make a work place balanced and healthy and this was achieved in our lab “103, SES” by the presence of Iloara Di, Rajeev, Meenakshi, Anup, Jhaji, Jaideep, Mithu, Aniruddha, Sarad, Anupama, Vinod and Anirban. Another very important part of our lab comprises of Hari, Devi Singh Ji and Rawat Ji, without whose help my experiments and thesis would not have taken place as scheduled. Summer trainees in our lab - Jui, Mahua, Roshni and Kasturi also need a special mention for their help and association.

Dr. S. Ramachandran, Ramu as we call him helped me a lot in sequence analysis and interpretation. I thank him for his guidance.

My family: Baba, Papa, Mummy, Bhaiya, Di, Siva, Saibu and Ushi all are not only to be thanked but congratulated too, because ‘my’ thesis is also “theirs”. I cannot them thank enough for their love, care, patience, encouragement and repeated reminders of my target.

Another place other than our lab, which I went often to was Dr. Sudha Bhattacharya’s lab, # 111, SES. Healthy discussions, useful guidance, suggestions and immense help is what I got from Indrani, Paramita, Jaishree Madam, Azam Ji, Anindo, Satish, Soma, Rachna, Ranjana and Nivedita. Jeevan Ji, Sajjan Ji and Manoj ji always help me when I required.

Prof. Asis Datta’s lab was another place I frequented often, whether it came to discussion or getting resources and I thank Subra Di, Niranjan Da, Sarjeet, Praveen, Jyothi Da, Bhaskar, Monideepa, Jamaal and Srimishta for that.

Dr. Tygai and Pandeyji of Animal House, JNU were as concerned for my animals as I was and always paid heed to problems faced regarding my animals-the rats

I must say my special thanks to Saini sir for his excellent photography work in my thesis. Mr. Dhawan (AIIMS) also deserves a mention for the little piece of good work I got done with his help.

Mr. Roy of NII, Toxicology Lab, receives quite a credit for having made such wonderful tissue sections for my immunohistochemistry work.

My friends – Seniors and Juniors at NII: Sushma, Kondal, Hemchand, Supriya, Arundathie, Neerja, Bettina.

IRM, Munster: Andrea, Lisa, Reinhold, Verena, Joachim, Humaira, Rudiger, Tanja, Heike, Anja, Ingrid, Margaret, Juta, Sabine, Kai, Anne, Judith, Barbara, Paul, Petra, Claudia.

BHU: Koshalya, Prashant, Amit, were always there whenever I needed their help and advice.
Sivas family: Aunti, Uncle, Sai, Anna, Mami, Kutty and Pavitra; Chetan, all my relatives, Uncle-Aunti and every one at Rajinder Nagar, Indu Didi and Soni and my old friends of B.Sc.-Vijeta, Seema-Vakul, Dipper, Kakuli-Jeetu and Neeraj-Payal Bhabhi-All of them deserve a special thank you for their concern and consistent encouragement.

I feel happy for having such concerned and supportive batchmates and thank them for their concern all through my stay here in SES: Indrani, Rajeev, Poonam, Panda, Padhy, Avinash, Anita, Paulraj, Pramod, GC, Sarfaraj, Gopi and Bhupna.

I wish to remember all my teachers of BSc.(Hindu College, DU) and MSc. (IIT, Delhi) for all their guidance and blessings which has brought me to this level in life.

University Grants Commission and DAAD needs a special mention and thanks for their financial assistance during my study in India and Germany.
