Acknowledgements

At the very outset, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my Supervisor, Prof. H.S. Chopra, who in spite of his busy schedule, supervised my work thoroughly and rendered his valuable as well as scholastic suggestions. He always showed me the utmost kindness and concern. In fact, without his guidance and encouragement this work could not have been completed.

I am highly grateful to Prof. Andre Sapir who spared time for some useful discussions and also for making arrangements for my stay at ULB (Brussels) during my field trip. I would like to be grateful to some European Commission Officials, particularly, Mr. Luic and Mr. Tom Massi for furnishing me with useful information and data. Besides, Mr. Rajesh from India Trade Centre and Mr. Srivastav as well as Sandeep from India’s Embassy to the EU were of immense help to me. Even various other people such as Bompa and owa, Joost, Janet, Manoj, Somanath, Siraj, Mohsin, Dr. and Mrs. Nandi as well as Anju, had also helped me in some way or the other during my stay in western Europe. I would like to thank the librarian of the College of Europe at Brugge who provided me with some useful material.
Backhome, I have received academic help as well as cooperation from various quarters. I am grateful to Dr. T.N. Sindhwani, Dr. T.P. Bhatt, Dr. O.P. Sharma and Mr. Raghu Dayal for their timely comments and suggestions. Besides my field trip, I have also resorted to primary and secondary source materials available at various libraries in Delhi. In this connection, special mention may be made to the libraries of JNU, Delegation of European Commission in India, PHDCCI, FICCI, ICRIER, RIS and Indo-German Chamber of Commerce. I am thankful to the librarians and staff of all these libraries for all the assistance they has extended to me. But here, I would like to specially mention about Mr. Anil Patni (The librarian - EU Information Centre in Delhi) who provided me with the latest primary source material at the time of need.

I am highly grateful to my parents who were a source of inspiration throughout my research project. They provided me the strength as well as courage to overcome the obstacles that came on the way of this endeavour. Besides, I would like to specially mention about my wife who provided me the much needed inspiration and useful as well as timely help. Again, I am obliged to all my family members, relatives and well wishers for their cooperation. During the course of my research, I was assisted by several friends. My special thanks go to Rajiv, Sanja, Dan, Jagat, Hrudanand, Nihar and Pradipta for their invaluable help at various levels of completion of this work.
And finally I would like to thank Chandan who typed this thesis with utmost dedication and care. Also, my thanks go to Govind, Manber and Kailash who assisted Chandan in this endeavour. At last, I extend my thanks to Sanjay Photostat in general and Birender in particular for taking responsibility to prepare the required number of copies of my thesis.

The responsibility for any error in this work, however, is mine.

New Delhi
30 July 1997

Sridhar Panda