ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is my pride and privilege to express a deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness to my esteemed teacher and supervisor, Professor Nandu Ram, for his brilliant guidance and treasured suggestions. In spite of his busy schedule he found time for me and magnanimously extended his helping hand. I am also thankful to my Chairperson, Professor J.S.Gandhi, and all the faculty members for their help.

I acknowledge my beholdenness to my ex-co-supervisor, Professor S.K.Sahu who inspired with his original ideas and suggested me to take the present topic for Ph.D. However, after his sad demise, his student, Sudhir, came forward to fill the gap and carry the legacy of training and teaching me the "Sociology of Health and Illness". Indeed, he religiously rose to the occasion and has now become my "friend, philosopher and guide". I am beholden to him for all his contributions - emotional, intellectual and others - to my life and this work. I am also grateful to Bihari Bhai for his entertaining ideas and company in the late night industry in his lab.

I can never forget my friend P.K.Das, Development Officer, LIC, for the help he provided throughout my field work. I am also grateful to the Santals and other people of Nilagiri for their help in completing my field work.

I am also highly grateful to Prasan, Pankaj, Manoj, Debu, DD, Hriday and Arabinder who have done a great job by checking my chapters. I would not have been able to complete it soon without their pains-taking and meticulous endeavours, their commitment to and concern for me and especially Prasan's "prohibition" on watching and enjoying Azhar's artistry: the touch-magic.
I am also grateful to Pradiptra for his help, with his open heart and commitment, whenever and wherever I needed it. Besides, there are many friends who have contributed to this work in many ways, on many occasions, either directly or indirectly. They, to mention a few, are Bagh (Lamboo), Bapi, Bibhu, Binay, Babuli, Sadhansu, Jagat, Sridhar Bhai, Bhai (Nihar), Chhua (Nanu), Arun and Sasmita, Nawal, Satish, Rajiv, Niranjan and Niru.

I am also grateful to my parents and other family members like Babu, Kuni, Tapan, Lovely, Pavley, Bhai and Laxmi for their contribution to and expectations from me.

I am highly grateful to all the people in my school (SSS) and centre (CSSS) office like Satishji, Dipak and Bharat et.al. I can never forget the help and friendship, love and affection as well as assurances and consolations I have got from Sarla Madam, Sunita didy and Talwarji.

Last but not least, I am at a loss of words to express my indebtedness to Rajiv Bhai who transformed my ideas into words and sentences. One of the first and greatest benefits of my PH.D. is the discovery of Rajiv Bhai, a good friend and nice human being who works hard with happiness as the approach.
