ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First of all I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to Professor H.S.Gill who exposed me to scholarship informed by spiritual discipline and meditation. All these years at JNU he taught me the science of speculative enquiry to map out the contours of knowledge. I would also like to thank Professor H.C.Narang profusely for his unqualified encouragement, support, and guidance. I owe my Fulbright Fellowship to them.

I wish to record my gratitude to the professors in the Harvard University and the University of California who gave me their unstinting support, confidence, and guidance. They conditioned my academic sensibility to intellectual rigour and for this I am indebted to late Professor Eloise Knapp Hay, Professor Gerald Larson, Professor Stephen Hay, Professor John Carman, Professor Charles Glenn, Professor Diana Eck and Professor David Perkins. I desire to acknowledge the co-operation of Rodney Dennis and the wonderful staff of Houghton Library at Harvard University who facilitated my research by giving me access to the rare Eliot collection. I wish to acknowledge also the co-operation of the staff of Widner Library at Harvard University and the libraries of the University of California.

For having awarded me Fulbright Fellowship, I desire to record my profuse thanks to the J.William Fulbright Foreign Scholarship Board, Washington D.C.; the USIA, and the USEFI.

I wish to acknowledge the encouragement offered by all my loving and supportive friends in India and abroad. My special thanks are due to all my teachers at JNU. I would also like to thank my former colleagues in Jamia Millia Islamia, New Delhi for their encouragement and trust placed in me.

Finally, I would like to thank my parents for standing by me in my successes and failures.
