It is with profound sense of gratitude that I thank Dr K.N.Nair and Dr P.S.George, my research supervisors, for all their guidance and support towards my research work. Right from the start of my association with Centre for my M.Phil. (1984), Dr Nair took special care on my well-being and upcoming. His concern and help kept my interest growing on research. I really gained a lot in working with him. Dr George's constructive criticisms and timely guidance helped me keep the arguments within legitimate bounds.
