

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am blessed and I thank God for every day and everything that happens to me.

I am indebted to my father for living, but to my teacher for living well. I express my heartfelt thanks to my teacher and my supervisor, Dr. THILAKAVATHI SUBRAMANIAN, who has been a compass that activated the magnet of curiosity, knowledge and wisdom in me. Madam walked along with me till my destination. There's no one quite like a special teacher and no teacher quite as special as my Madam. A person whose faith in my ability to succeed, that enabled me to complete this dissertation. I cherish her caring guidance.

Gratitude is a currency that I can mint for myself and spend without fear of bankruptcy. My sincere gratitude to Doctoral Committee members, Dr.B.N. Murthy, Scientist 'G', Director Grade Scientist (Rtd.), National Institute of Epidemiology, Indian Council of Medical Research, Chennai and Dr. T. Amutha Lakshmi, Assistant Professor, Madras School of Social Work, Chennai. They have made their important contributions throughout my study that gave shape and life to my work. I greatly express my appreciation to Dr. B. N. Murthy, for the time he has taken off his busy schedule to attend doctoral committee meetings and to comment on my reports. I express my deep gratitude and sincere thanks to Dr. Amutha Lakshmi, who frequently enquired about my progress and motivated me to complete the study.

I started by doing what is necessary; then to do what is possible; and suddenly I was doing what was impossible. My thanks to Dr. S. Raja Samuel, Associate Professor & HOD, Madras Social of Social Work, Chennai, for conducting workshop on Research Methodology and SPSS made my impossible mission possible.

No one is more cherished in this world than someone who lightens the burden of another. I cherish the assistance rendered by Dr. Venkatesan Chakrapani M.D, Chairman of C-SHaRP for making me understand the life style of my respondents, for assisting to gain in-depth knowledge about my respondents and Mr. Murali Shanmugam, C-SHaRP has been kind enough for assisting in collecting reviews for my study.

Gratitude is a vaccine, antidote and antibiotic. My gratitude to Mrs. Vijaya Prabha, TA, NIE, ICMR for her constant motivation. Wherever I have knocked, a door has opened. Wherever I have wandered, a path has appeared. I thank Mr. Magesh Rajan, NIE, ICMR for all his constant inputs, motivation and constructive criticism.

Whenever I did a mistake and felt down, I was made to realise that my mistakes are proof that I am trying. Thanks to Dr. P. Prakasam, my former Principal, Mar Gregorios College, Chennai, for making me realise that mistakes are worthy. I thank Fr. Shabu M Marathur, our Secretary who taught me, never to stop when I am tired but to STOP when I am DONE. My appreciation to Dr. Mohan Dass, my Principal for assisting to allot time exclusively for my PhD work.

I have seen and met angels wearing the disguise of ordinary people living ordinary lives. My special thanks to Rev. Dr. John Peter, HOD and Department of Social Work, Mar Gregorios College for his spiritual motivation.

My thanks to Mr. Deva Rajan, from the Tamil department for assisting in translating the tool in the vernacular language. Everything is theoretically impossible until it is done. A special word of thanks to Mr. A. J. Hariharan, I.C.W.O, Founder Secretary, for connecting me to the CBOs in Chennai. Without him my data collection would have been impossible.

Man is so made that when anything fires his soul, impossible vanishes. I thank Mr. P. Kamaraj, TO, NIE, ICMR for firing my soul with statistic and making the impossible vanish.

Critical thing in life is whether you take things for granted or you take them with gratitude. My thanks to Mr. Manikandan, Psychiatric Social Worker, Raju Hospital, for his unconditional assistance throughout my dissertation.

There is no such thing as gratitude unexpressed. If it is unexpressed, it is plain, old-fashioned ingratitude. It is my duty to thank all my respondents who invested their valuable time and giving the data for the research. Without them this research could not have been possible.

My thanks to Jaya Aunty, Jeeva Amma, Ms.Sadha, Mrs.Reema (Project coordinators of CBOs) for their support without which my data collection would not have been possible.

Dear mom and dad, success is in my stride, because I have parents like you by my side. I have never taken any compliments to heart because deep down inside I know that all of them actually belong to you both. I have let so many years pass without thanking you both. But you haven't let a single second pass without loving me unconditionally. I thank you both.

My husband F.L. John Britto, when the world closed its doors on me, you opened your arms for me. When people shut their ears for me, you opened your hearts for me. Thanks for always being there for me. Have no words to acknowledge the sacrifices you made and the dreams you had to let go, just to give me a shot at achieving mine.

My daughter F.J. Sarah Daphne, the hardest arithmetic to master is that which enables us to count our blessings and you are my blessing. A child can have questions that a wise man can never answer. But my daughter would have all the questions as well as the answer to all my problems. When she was young I held her hand and taught her maths and now she taught me the level of significance for hypothesis. I would thank you both from the bottom of my heart, but for you both my heart has no bottom. Without both of your support my PhD would have been just a dream. Thank you very much for taking part in my dream and walking along throughout in my journey.

Feeling gratitude and not expressing it is like wrapping a present and not giving it. My thanks to Mrs. Henrietta, my mother in law. Keep your face always toward the sunshine - and shadows will fall behind you. Mrs. Malarvizhi, my sister in law, who has always seen to that my face is towards sunshine and never allowed shadow to haunt me. Gratitude is a quality similar to electricity. It must be produced and discharged and used up in order to exist at all Catherina Mishelline my niece for extending her support in my completion of Ph.D.
