ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Any endeavour is not complete without the help of certain individuals who rendered their helping hand directly or indirectly and the present study is no exception. On the outset the task of completing this thesis would not have been successful but for the invaluable scholarly guidance of revered Prof. RC Sharma, Political Geography Division, School of International Studies. His rich knowledge was always a source of inspiration for me to shape my academic endeavour. I owe an unrepayable debt of gratitude for his constant encouragement, support, critical evaluation and for bearing with all my short comings. I sincerely express my gratitude to him.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to Prof. Asis Dutta, Vice-Chancellor, Prof. Vivekananathan, Prof. Jambolker, Prof. R.Kumar and Prof. Nandu Ram, Jawaharlal Nehru University, for their concern and encouragement in completing this thesis.

I would like to extend my sincere thanks to Staffs of various libraries, in India as well as in USA. Specific mention may be made of Jawaharlal Nehru University (New Delhi), Indian Institute of Public Administration (IIPA, New Delhi), Indian National Scientific Documentation Centre (INSDOC), Indian Meteorological Department Library (New Delhi), Institute of Science and Environment Library (New Delhi), United Nation Library (New Delhi), Disaster Research Centre (Delaware), Natural Hazards Research and Applications Information Centre (Boulder, USA), U.S. Geological Survey National Earthquake Information Centre (Denver, USA), Earthquake Engineering Research Institute Library (Oakland, USA) and Federal Emergency Management Agency Documentation Centre (San Francisco, USA).

I extend my sincere thanks to Mr. Rao, Librarian, Mr. Viswanathan, D. Librarian, (JNU, New Delhi), Susan, Librarian, (DRC, Delaware), and Morgan, Librarian, (NHRAIC, Boulder) for their co-operation, concern and help.

I am grateful to various eminent Professors, Administrators, Scholars and Political personalities who rendered their valuable time and provided me with sufficient information and their views, which greatly enhanced my academic inquisitiveness. Particularly my gratitude due to Prof. Quarantelli, his wide and in-depth knowledge, experience, scholarly guidance which shaped this present thesis. I feel much privileged with his association. He also provided me sufficient relevant materials generously, without such help I cannot imagine this thesis work would have been complete successfully. I am thankful to him wholeheartedly.

I extend my sincere thanks also to Prof. Jony Nigg, Director (DRC, Delaware), Prof. Dynes (Delaware), Prof. Mileti, Director (Natural Hazards Research and applications Information Centre, Boulder), W.J. Person, Chief (U.S. Geological Survey, Denver), A.J. Zeisel, Chief (FEMA, Washington, D.C.), P.T.L. Henyey, Director (SCEC, Los Angeles), Petak Atkission, Director (ISSM, Los Angeles), R.K. Eisner, Regional Administrator, (GOES, California, Oakland), and Richard McCarthy, Acting Executive Director, (SSC, California, Sacramento).

I extend my sincere thanks to many people who helped me in different level on my field trip, particularly Dr. Mohana Chandra Menon (Delaware) deserves a special thanks. Without his generous help, co-operation and sincerity, this field work could not have been completed fruitfully. Thanks are also due to Ibrahim, Prabha Ibrahim and their daughters (Boulder) Mr. Govindarajan (San Fransico), Mr. Ganesh and his family members (New York), Priya and Baskaran (Washington, D.C.), Dhandapani and his family member (San Fransico), Subramaniam Siva (Los Angeles), Richa Nager and David (Boulder).
Muralidharan, Usha and their children (Denver), Raghunathan (Denver), Kumar and Pushpa Raj (London) and Pandian and Amalendu (University of Hull), for their kindness and co-operation. They also provided me shelter and taken care of me through out my field trip. I always feel indebted to them.

I wish to express my thanks to Sh. Sohanlal, Sh. Banwarilal, and Sh. Jeet Singh. Administrative officers of various schools in JNU and Mr. Venkat, P.A. to V.C. for their moral support and encouragement in completion of my thesis work. I feel greatly indebted to Mr. Raja, Dr. Selvaraju, Partha, Dr. Chandresekhari, Mr. Viswanathan, Mr. U.V.K.U. Sastry, and Dr. P.C. Sinha for their valuable suggestions and help when needed mostly.

It would be improper on my part if I don't recognise the genuine help of my friends who gave me when needed most. Specifically, Rabindra, Suresh, Shailesh, Muthu, Ponnu, Chandra Shekar, Satish Kumar Negi, M.D. Helal, Chelladurai, Gopal, Mohit. Narandra, Umakanth, Anbarasan, Guru, Ramakrishnan, Gopinath, Venkateshwarao Rao, Dyanandh, John, Bhup Singh, Magudapathi, Abey, Narandra Rakhe, Nirupama, Madhav, Rana, Chandanu, Karna, Biswajit, Harbind, Vijay and Battilal (JNU Students' Union President, 1996-97).

I shall be failing in my duty if I do not express my gratitude to my parents, brother and sisters who were a constant source of encouragement and moral support all through my painstaking efforts of this research. They sacrificed their own easiness and comfort, and relived me from all the domestic responsibilities and burden, to pursue my academic endeavours and prayed for my well being. Their blessings for my brighter future has made this thesis yet another step in that direction. I am obliged for their unrepayable love, affection, generosity and sacrifice.

My whole hearted thanks are due to Mr. Trilok Nath Misra, who had devoted his precious time and energy towards correcting my thesis manuscripts.

The fellowship proved by the UGC over the last four years greatly eased the financial burden and helped me to focus all attention on research. Thanks are also due to JNU for funding my field trip to USA which helped me to gain experience and enhanced better understanding about the study area.

I also extend my gratitude to all staff members of the CIPOD department for their kindness in providing information and guidance whenever required.

I also derived many views, ideas from various reports, books, articles from journals and conferences. I extend my thanks to all of them. My heartfelt thanks to Raju and Rajan for having helped me in completing the thesis work on time by sitting even till late in the night. Sanjay Photostat Centre deserve a great appreciation for their co-operation.

Last but most assuredly not least, I would like to express my sincere whole hearted thanks to Shivani and Umanathan. without their constant encouragement, moral support and understanding, this thesis work could not have been completed successfully, for which I am highly indebted to them. Their sincerity and affection will be a matter for me to cherish all through my life.

It is impossible to list all those who have contributed in the endeavour of completion of my thesis one way or another, but I wish to express my thanks to every one of them without mentioning here. Finally, I am entirely responsible for any drawbacks and error of this thesis work.
