JUST A WORD

My profound and hearty thanks . . . . .

To my beloved teacher

Dr. K.R. Purushotham for kindling the innovative thought in my brain on one of the 'thrust areas' in Rodent Ecology. His unstinted encouragement, timely and lively discussions on the problem helped me a lot in shaping the present piece of work. I owe a lot for his teacher-ly and brotherly affection. I feel it a great privilege to work with him. Thank you very much sir . . . .

To Prof. R. Ramamurthi and Prof. K.S. Swami for their academic moral support.

To The Head, Department of Zoology, S.V. University for providing necessary laboratory facilities.

To Dr. A.M.K. Mohana Rao, Junior Rodent Specialist & Dr. R.P. Mathur, Rodent Biologist for their critical evaluation and suggestions over my work which helped me in sharpening my research project. Thanks a lot . .

To M/s. Pest Control (India) Pvt. Limited and M/s. Indian Explosives Limited, Madras for supplying candidate rodenticide formulations.

To UGC and CSIR, New Delhi for the financial support during the period of investigation.
To My dear dear colleagues . . . .

Mr. M.J. Christopher, Mr. G.P. Maddaiah,
Miss. Shobharani, Mr. T.V.S. Srinivasa Rao, Mr. K. Ravindran, Mr. Y.C.
Ratnakar and Sri V. Sreenivasulu Naidu for lending their hands in all spheres of my research core.

To My dearmost family sphere, . . . .

M. Kumar, M. Meenakshi Sundari,
M. Murugan, M. Syamala, M. Sathyamurthy and Sri A.K. Ravi Kumar
for their moral support in so many ways.
