A Note of Acknowledgement

I am filled with intense delight to express gratitude to my esteemed guide Dr. P. Ramachandran, Professor, Department of Population Studies, Sri Venkateswara University Tirupati, for his valuable guidance throughout my research work. It was he who inspired me to take up refreshingly new realms of research in Population Studies, and took me to rare flights of scientific imagination and creative endeavour. My professor put his shoulder to the wheel and fastidiously planned broad contours of my doctoral dissertation. The successful completion of my research work is attributable in no uncertain terms to his kind guidance and right direction.

I shall always cherish the memory of encouragement given by Professor P.M. Kulkarni, CSRD, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi, a versatile Population Scientist and a celebrated man of letters. Prof. Kulkarni with all his paternal concern had helped me in technical analysis and imposed rigours of discipline that scientific culture would demand. I am greatly indebted to him.

I am grateful to Population Foundation of India and Professor K. Srinivasan, Formerly Executive Director, Population Foundation of India, Emeritus Professor, International Institute for Population Sciences, Mumbai, in allowing me to use the data of the Project entitled "Peasant Women, Fertility And Contraceptive Behaviour: A Study of Scheduled Castes", for my research and his encouragement.

This study has extensively used the data collected by the Second National Family Health Survey (NFHS-2), Andhra Pradesh conducted by Indian Institute for Health and Family Welfare (IIHFW), Hyderabad in collaboration with the International Institute for Population Sciences (IIPS), Mumbai as well as computerized data files provided by the NFHS wing at IIPS. I would like to acknowledge this valuable support. I am also pleased to thank Johns Hopkins University, Centre for Communication Programs for providing the necessary material to complete my dissertation work.

I would like to thank Prof. Christophe Z. Guillemot, Co-ordinator, South India Fertility Project, French Institute of Pondicherry, Pondicherry for providing fertility maps. I am extremely indebted Prof. S. Krishnamoorthy Prof. K.N.M. Raju, Dr. N. Audinarayana, Dr. T.V. Selhar, Dr. S. Irudaya Rajan, Prof. M. Sivamurthy for their encouragement.

I thank Prof. M.S.R. Murthy, Head, Department of Population Studies, S.V. University, Tirupati for his timely help and encouragement. I am grateful to Sri. M. Sahadeva Reddy, for all his moral support throughout my study in the University and my association with him is a rewarding experience. I am also thankful to Prof. P. Jayaram Reddy and other faculty members of the Department. My profound thanks to Sri A. Subbarama Naidu, Librarian, Sri. K. Balaliah and other non-teaching staff of the Department as well for their encouragement. It is my duty to thank the authorities of Sri Venkateswara University for giving me an opportunity to pursue my research.

I simply fumble forwards to express my heavy debts of gratitude to Dr. Manoj Alagarajan, Mr. K. Swaminathan, Dr. Ajay Kumar Mishra, Dr. M.N. Shivakumar, Dr. M. Sivakami, Dr. I. Sheela, for their ceaseless help throughout the study and during my frequent visits to Bharathiar University, Coimbatore.

I would like to thank Sri C.B.S. Venkataramana, IAS, Dr. P. Sreenivasulu Reddy, Dr. T. Chandrasekararaya, Dr. S. Gunasekaran, Sri. V. Ramana Reddy, and Ms. Jareena for their moral support at various levels.

I owe to express my thanks to Sri P. Subramanyam Reddy and family, Ramapuram, and Smt. P. Navaneetha Ramachandran for their affection during my research.

During my fieldwork I became indebted to many people. My deep gratitude to them cannot be adequately conveyed in a brief acknowledgement. However, this work would not have been possible without their kind cooperation. I have not only developed memorable association with them but was also inspired by each one of them in my data collection successfully. My sincere gratitude is due to all of them.

Finally, I must share the strained the joy of work with my father Sri. P.N. Rao, venerated uncle Sri. A.S. Venu Gopal Rao, and all of my family members whose infinite love, patience, inspiration, and goodwill helped me to complete this work successfully. It is gratifying to note that my adored brother Mr. P. Phani Vasu, stood beside me always as a staunch tower of strength. Thanks to his loving concern for me, and unfailing support at home, I could accomplish what all I had to do in this stupendous task and never allowed any situation that would dampen my enthusiasm for research. I also thank to my beloved niece Kum. A.V. Kavya for her gentle and genial smile had telling effect on me and she kept me cheerful.

[Signature]

P. RAMESH
avkavya@rediffmail.com