Acknowledgement

Giving final touches to my research work, a very profound sense of joy contentment and happiness settled inside me and with that came the subtle realization that how so many considerate people (souls) in their own unique ways have contributed to my cause and have reached out to assist me to go through the completion of my research work. I find it very difficult to express my gratitude and thanks in words to all of them since words have their own limitations but I am sure that in my case they will certainly convey the hidden message of my deepest emotions and feelings. I fully acknowledge that without their support, co-operation and constant encouragement it would have been just impossible for me to realize my work.

After the almighty, omniscient God the person who deserves the highest credit for my small achievement is my Guide, well wisher, most respected Dr. R. S. Kushwaha Reader, under whose blessings, supervision, guidance and inspiration I could complete my research work at Bipin Bihari (P.G.) College, Jhansi (U.P.). His constructive criticism, unperturbed patience, persistence, meticulous concern and his personal interest and involvement in my research work went a long way in helping me go through the completion of my research work at all stages, all levels, all the times. His incredible knowledge, immaculate hold over the topic helped me to remain focused and goal oriented and at no time I found my self-going astray or out of context.

Let it be my privilege to record my hearty gratitude to Dr. U.P. Singh Principal Bipin Bihari college Jhansi. Prof. C.M. Gupta H.O.D.
Chemistry Department & Dr. M.A. Ansari, Senior Lecturer in Chemistry to their utmost co-operation and careless inspiration during this period.

I would like to forward special thanks to Shri. R.S. Rai Senior Laboratory Incharge, Bipin Bihari (P.G.) College, Jhansi for rendering every possible technical assistance and full support and co-operation provided during my research assignments.

I want to express heartiest gratitude towards my parents who were the first to lay down the foundation of education in me on which I have been able to construct this accomplishment of today. Their prayers and blessings have always been with me like the guiding stars showing me the right direction. I forward my heartiest thanks to my younger sister and brother for their love, strong feelings and great moral support.

I fully appreciate the hard work carried out by all staff members of Capital Computers, Antia Tal for neat and accurate computer type setting and printing the manuscript efficiently in due time.

My research work has meant more to me than just an academic achievement, for me it is a dream comes, a humble aspiration long cherished in my heart finally finding a way out in the sun from the recesses of my heart.

MAYA VERMA

(CMAYA VERMA)