Acknowledgements

With utmost sincerity and humbleness I grab this opportunity to convey my genuine gratitude to the help, co-operation and guidance extended to me by my well wishers and friends during the tenure of my work. To begin with I would like to express my heartiest regards and reverence to my mentor, Dr. Sujoy Kr. Das Gupta, for his tireless guidance and co-operation. His worthy suggestions, symbolic optimism and unremitting inspirations have compassed my journey (in the field) to the right direction. Whenever problems engulfed me, his encouragement and guidance have always helped me to find the proper way out. His severe composure and remarkable ability to mark out the right solution as well as his active presence in every phase of work have left a permanent indelible impression on my career and my mind.

I am highly obliged to Dr. Maitrayee Das Gupta for her continuous inspiration and encouragement in every sphere of my study.

Sincerest thanks to Prabir-da. Without his support and co-operation, many phases of my work would not have been achieved. I would also like to thank Ramesh-da for looking after the daily chores in the lab and giving us a desired break from time to time.

Financial assistance from University Grants Commission, UGC, is acknowledged.

My sincere thanks to all the members of the Department of Microbiology for their generous co-operation.

I also acknowledge Dr. S. Mande and Dr. O. Fayet for providing valuable research materials.

I am also thankful to all my friends, especially Suranjana, Sabyasachi, Subhro, Kuntal, Somnath, Joydeep, Shubhodipa, Somasri and Abhishek.

I would distinctively like to thank my friends Shubhankar and Mom for continuously encouraging me during my moments of depression.

I express my gratitude to Amit-da, Ronita, Ayan, Manas, Sejuti, Sandip, Abhijit, Bikram, Koel and Sudip for their help and co-operation.

I would like to bestow my sincerest sense of obligation towards my seniors, Dr. Abhijit Basu, Dr. Mahashweta Mitra and Dr. Wridhiman Ghosh for their untiring encouragement in my ups and downs. Their friendliness and sympathy will always be a treasure to cherish.

Words of thanks only seem to be inadequate and trifle when I show my gratitude towards my dearest labmates, Abhik, Archana, Sujoy, Shukhendu, Bumba, Bidisha, Nabanita, Arnab, Boudhayan and Priyanka. Their unending help and inspiration will be remembered forever. Their wit and humor made life easy and smooth. I am highly honoured to get the opportunity to work with such great friends. In a nutshell, they were science and sympathy personified.
Above all, I remember my parents with great respect without whose presence and support my life is unable to function with any similitude of normality. I am proud and lucky to be a part of my family.

Twishasri Das Gupta

Department of Microbiology
Bose Institute, Kolkata.