Maps
Map 3.1 Nepal: study area districts 90-91
Map 3.2 Parsa district and study VDC 90-91
Map 3.3 Study village of Tarai Belwa VDC 90-91
Map 3.4 Study area Nuwakot district 104-105
Map 3.5 Study village Nuwakot district- the Chaturale VDC 104-105
Map 4.1 Outflow of migration for overseas employment in Nepal by the country of destination by sex 170-171

Boxes
Box 2.1 Overview of field work 68
Box 4.1 An overview of agricultural tools made of by blacksmiths, the hill village 168
Box 5.1 Women’s perception of a poor family 182
Box 5.2 A typology of women’s perception of gendered poverty 184
Box 6.1 Share of tasks related to care and management of livestock among livestock owning households in the hill village 309
Box 6.2 Comparison of the daily routine of a Chhetri woman and her husband 311
Box 6.3 Comparison of the daily routine of a Mushahar woman and her husband 311
Box 7.1 Gender biases in micro-credit investment sectors 380

Figures
Figure 1.1: Conceptualisation of women’s experiences of poverty 59
Figure 2.1 Survey instruments and process of primary data collection 70
Figure 4.1 Agricultural labour markets in the Tarai village 155
Tables

Chapter 2
Table 2.1 Distribution of total and sample households by caste ethnic groups, the study villages 73
Table 2.1 Distribution of total and sample households by caste ethnic groups, the study villages 74

Chapter 3
Table 3.1 An overview of settlement patterns by social groups, the Tarai village 92
Table 3.2 Allocation of VDC's budget in the fiscal year 2005/06, the Tarai village 100
Table 3.3 Distribution of houses by safe-drinking water and toilet facility, according to settlements, the Tarai village 101
Table 3.4 Name of settlements; ward number and major social group, the hill village 106
Table 3.5 Number of women groups formed by MJP, the hill village by February 2006 112
Table 3.6 A comparison of Tarai village and hill village in their physical, social and developmental aspects 116
Table 3.7 Sample population by sex, according to age group, the villages studied 118
Table 3.8 Demographic profile of the sample population by social group, the Tarai village 119
Table 3.9 Demographic profile of the sample population by social groups, the hill village 120

Chapter 4
Table 4.1 Land ownership pattern in the villages studied (land = kattha in Tarai and ropani in hill) 126
Table 4.2 Ownership of land by social groups, the Tarai village (land = kattha) 127
Table 4.2a Ownership of land by its types, according to social groups, the hill village (land = ropani) 128
Table 4.3 Percentage distribution of households by social group, according to landownership size, the Tarai village 131
Table 4.3a Percentage distribution of households by social group, according to landownership size, the hill village 133
Table 4.4 Concentration of land among bottom 20% and top 20% households by social group, the villages studied (land area in kattha in the Tarai village and ropani in the hill village) 134
Table 4.5 Percentage of households leased-in and leased-out land by social group and landownership size, the Tarai village 138
Table 4.6 Percentage of households leasing-in and leased-out land by social group and landownership size, the hill village

Table 4.7 Percentage distribution of households who are leasing-in land by social group, according to size of owned land, the hill village

Table 4.8 Percentage distribution of households who lease-in land by social group, according to size of land owned, the Tarai village

Table 4.9 Percentage distribution of households by productive organisation of land, according to social group, the villages studied

Table 4.10 Percentage distribution of total workforce (15 years and above) by gender, according to occupational categories, the villages studied

Table 4.11 Percentage distribution of agricultural labourers by gender, according to social group, the villages studied

Table 4.12 Percentage distribution of non-agricultural labourers (NAL) by gender, according to social group, the villages studied

Table 4.13 Percentage distribution of industrial workers (IW) by gender, according to social group, the villages studied

Table 4.14 Percentage distribution of persons engaged in services by gender, according to social group, the villages studied

Table 4.15 Percentage distribution of households by economic strata, according to social group, the villages studied

Table 4.16 Percentage distribution of households by economic strata, according to landownership size, the villages studied

Table 5.1 Ownership of land by gender, according to social groups (area in ropani in the hills and kattha in the Tarai village), the villages studied

Table 5.1a Ownership of land by gender, according to land ownership size (area in ropani in the hills and kattha in the Tarai), the villages studied

Table 5.1b Ownership of land by gender, according to economic strata (area in ropani in the hills and kattha in the Tarai), the villages studied

Table 5.1c Ownership of land by gender, according to sex of the head of the household (area in ropani in the hills and kattha in the Tarai), the villages studied

Table 5.2 Female ownership of livestock in the villages studied

Table 5.3 Percentage distribution of livestock under the ownership of females by types of livestock, according to social groups, the villages studied

Table 5.3a Percentage distribution of livestock under the ownership of females by types of livestock, according to landownership size, the villages studied

Table 5.3b Percentage distribution of livestock under the ownership of females by types of livestock, according to economic strata, the villages studied

Table 5.3c Percentage distribution of livestock under the ownership of females by types of livestock, according to sex of the head of the household, the villages studied

Table 5.4 Female possession of ornaments/cash by social groups, the villages studied

Table 5.4a Female possession of ornaments/cash by landownership size, villages studied

Table 5.4b Female possession of ornaments/cash by economic strata, the villages studied

Table 5.4c Female possession of ornaments/cash by sex of the head of the household, the villages studied

Table 5.5 Percentage distribution of women (within the category) by their involvement in IG activities, according to social group and economic strata, the villages studied

Table 5.6 Percentage distribution of women who have not involved in any IG activities reporting whether or not they have free time to involve in IG activities if available, according to social groups, the villages studied

Table 5.6a Percentage distribution of women who have not involved in any IG activities reporting whether or not they have free time to involve in IG activities if available, according to economic strata, the villages studied

Table 5.6b Percentage distribution of women who have not involved in any IG activities reporting whether or not they have free time to involve in IG activities if available, according to landownership size, the villages studied

Table 5.6c Percentage distribution of women who have not involved in any IG activities reporting whether or not they have free time to involve in IG activities if available, according to sex of headship, the villages studied

Table 5.7 Percentage distributions of women who have not involved in any IG activities reporting not have a time to involve in IG activities if available by reasons, according to social groups, the villages studied

Table 5.7a Percentage distributions of women who have not involved in any IG activities reporting not have a time to involve in IG activities if available by reasons, according to economic strata, the villages studied

Table 5.7b Percentage distribution of women who have not involved in any IG activities reporting not have a time to involve in IG activities if available by reasons, according to landowning size, the villages studied

Table 5.8 Top ten diseases in the hill village by gender (in %)

Table 5.9 Child health, general health and maternal health indicators, the hill village
Table 5.10 Number of births and deaths among children by gender, according to social group in the villages studied 233
Table 5.10a Number of births and deaths among children by gender, according to landownership size in the villages studied 235
Table 5.10b Number of births and deaths among children by gender, according to economic strata in the villages studied 236
Table 5.11 Adult literacy rates (15 years and above) and mean years of schooling (6 years and above) by gender, according to social groups, the villages studied 241
Table 5.11a Adult literacy rates (15 years and above) and mean years of schooling (6 years and above) by gender, according to landownership size, the villages studied 245
Table 5.11b Adult literacy rates (15 years and above) and mean years of schooling (6 years and above) by gender, according to economic strata, the villages studied 247
Table 5.11c Adult literacy rates (15 years and above) and mean years of schooling (6 years and above) by gender, according to sex of the head of the household, the villages studied 249
Table 5.11d Cross tabulation of female adult literacy rates by economic strata, according to social group, the villages studied 250

Chapter 6
Table 6.1 Percentage distribution of sample population aged 10 years and above by gender, according to marital status, the villages studied 275
Table 6.2 Age at first marriage of the sample population aged 10 years and above by gender, the villages studied 275
Table 6.3 Mean age at first marriage and likelihood of marrying before 20 years of age of sample population aged 10 years by gender, according to social groups, the villages studied 276
Table 6.3a Mean age at first marriage and likelihood of marrying before 20 years of age of sample population aged 10 years and above by gender, according to landholding size, the villages studied 279
Table 6.3b Mean age at first marriage and likelihood of marrying before 20 years of age of sample population aged 10 years and above by gender, according to economic strata, the villages studied 280
Table 6.4 Percentage distribution of widows/widowers, according to age, the villages studied 285
Table 6.5 Prevalence of widowhood, according to social group, the villages studied 287
Table 6.6 Women's perception on traditionally masculine, feminine or gender neutral tasks, the villages studied (in row % of women)

Table 6.7 Number of labourers employed in cultivation of leading cereal crops by gender, according to types of crops, the villages studied

Table 6.8 Number of females per 100 males in cultivation around the year by types of crops, according to social groups, the villages studied

Table 6.8a Number of females per 100 males in cultivation around the year by types of crops, according to landholding size, the villages studied

Table 6.8b Number of females per 100 males in cultivation around the year by types of crops, according to economic strata, the villages studied

Table 6.8c Number of females per 100 males in cultivation around the year by types of crops, according to sex of the household head, the study villages

Table 6.9 Distribution of women reporting knowledge on legal rights of different issues pertaining to their lives by social groups, the villages studies

Table 6.9a Percentage distribution of women reporting knowledge on legal rights of different issues pertaining to their lives by economic strata, the villages studies

Table 6.10 Percentage of women (within the caste category) who are aware on local names and women’s organisations, the hill village

Table 6.10a Percentage of women (within the caste category) who are aware on local names and women’s organisations, the Tarai village

Table 6.10b Percentage of women (within the economic category) who are aware on local names and women’s organisations by economic strata, villages studied

Table 6.11 Percentage distribution of women by utilisation of school services during the last 12 months previous to the survey, according to social groups and economic strata, villages studied

Table 6.12 Percentage distribution of women by utilisation of health facilities during the last 12 months of the survey, according to social groups, the study village

Table 6.12a Percentage distribution of women by utilisation of health facilities during the last 12 months of the survey, according to economic strata, the villages studied

Table 6.13 Decision-making roles by gender, the hill village

Table 6.13a Decision-making roles by gender, the Tarai village

Chapter 7

Table 7.1 A profile of MCFIs working in the Tarai village

Table 7.2 Types and size of loans and their repayment systems of selected MCFIs

Table 7.3 A profile of Government (GOs) and INGos/NGos working in the Tarai village

Table 7.4 An overview of coverage of women in SHGs and sub-sampled for the detailed study, according to social groups, landowning size and economic strata
| Table 7.5 | A demographic and social profile of the women’s involved in SHGs (%age within the category) by social groups | 360 |
| Table 7.6 | Women’s perception on negative impact of involving in SHGs | 363 |
| Table 7.7 | Composite index of negative consequences on increasing workload for women and daughters (in %), according to social groups, landowning size and economic strata | 364 |
| Table 7.8 | Perception of women on the impact of SHGs on the increase in household material well-being | 365 |
| Table 7.9 | Composite index of the impact of SHGs on household’s material well-being | 367 |
| Table 7.10 | Perception of women on the impact of SHGs on the increase in their material well-being | 368 |
| Table 7.11 | Composite index of the impact of SHGs on women’s material well-being | 369 |
| Table 7.12 | Perception of women on the impact of SHGs on increasing security assets to women | 373 |
| Table 7.13 | Composite index of women’s security assets | 374 |
| Table 7.14 | Access to loans by social group, landowning and economic strata of women involved in SHGs | 376 |
| Table 7.15 | Percentage distribution of women running any types of IG activities from loans borrowed from SHGs, according to social group, landowning size and economic strata | 379 |
| Table 7.16 | Average amount of income for the last year from the IG activities carried out as being a SHG member by social group, landowning size and economic strata | 382 |
| Table 7.17 | An overview of women who earned assets after involvement in SHGs | 388 |
| Table 7.18 | An overview of control over resources that earned through involving in self help group (%age within the caste) | 393 |
| Table 7.19 | Decision having number of children by decision makers, according to social groups, landowning size and economic strata | 396 |
| Table 7.20 | Decision on spacing between children by decision makers, according to social groups, landowning size and economic strata | 397 |
| Table 7.21 | Decision on whether to use a family planning method by decision makers, according to social groups, landowning size and economic strata | 399 |
| Table 7.22 | Decision on abortion of unwanted pregnancies by decision makers, according to social groups, landowning size and economic strata | 401 |
| Table 7.23 | Decision on place of delivery by decision makers, according to social groups, landowning size and economic strata | 402 |
| Table 7.24 | An overview of changes in women’s freedom to move and interact before joining the SHGs and now (in %) | 404 |
Table 7.25 An overview of women's gender awareness, self-confidence and assertiveness, according to social group, landowning size and economic strata