ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The study on community participation is relatively new in the sociology of education. My doctoral thesis on community participation in the universalisation of primary education, an academic research on this direction is inevitably a collective one. A number of individuals as well as several organisations have contributed both directly and indirectly to the achievement of doctoral research in a variety of ways. I am happy to record my sincere thanks and appreciation to all of them. I wish to record my appreciation and gratitude to the faculty members of Zakir Husain Centre for Educational Studies for having presented me with the opportunity to undertake this academic exercise.

I take this opportunity to place on record my deep sense of gratitude to my research supervisor, Dr. S. Srinivasa Rao for his constant help, scholarly and constructive criticism, encouragement and patience, methodical supervision of my work. I find words inadequate to acknowledge his role in the successful completion of my work. I shall always remember his inspiring advice and personal guidance to put my heart and soul into the work to make it more interesting. Moreover, his in-depth erudition of my area of work along with critical and insightful suggestions helped me to develop a more critical and informed perspective throughout the research process. I will never forget the sweet memories of working with someone as earnest as Dr. Rao has been a privilege and a genuine education for me.

I am thankful to Professor Karuna Chanana who taught me the basics as well as advanced courses on 'Sociology of Education'. I am grateful to her especially for her academic suggestions, personal care and emotional support and she gave her valuable time whenever I wanted to discuss something on my research work. I express my deep gratitude to the academic carder of ZHCES. They provided meaningful and informative insights on my subject. I am really impressed through their personal example for hard work and scholarship and maintaining a high standard of quality research work, I would like to thank to: Professor Geetha B. Nambissan (Chairperson), Dr. S. Srinivasa Rao (Supervisor), Professor Aji Kumar Mohanty, Professor Deepak Kumar, Professor Binod Khasaria, Dr. Minati Panda, Dr. Saumen Chatopadhyya and Dr. Dhruv Raina. I shall be failing in my duty if I do not place on record the help and guidance I received from Dr. Gobinda Chandra Paul who taught the courses on 'Research Methodology' and provided assistance in presenting the data in a meaningful way in my work.

I must thank Dr. Rabindranath Mohanty, former Head of the Department of Sociology, Ravenshaw College Cuttack who introduced me to the world of sociology and created a genuine interest towards the discipline at the Intermediate and graduation level. His guidance enabled me to join J.N.U at the post graduation level. I am really grateful to Professor Abhijit Pathak, Chairperson, Centre for the Study of Social Systems who in fact taught me the basics in 'Sociology of Education'. The art of creative and emotional teaching in the classroom attracted me to this area. Further, Professor C.N. Venugopal's course on 'Sociological Theories' enabled me to understand the Sociological theories and its relevance in the sociology of education. Apart from this, I am also privileged to be taught by some of the eminent sociologists in India like Prof. Yogendra Singh, Prof. T.K. Oommen, Prof. Dipankar Gupta, Prof. K.L. Sharma and Prof. Anand Kumar.
More importantly, the kind of cooperation and readiness to help in collecting data on primary education in Orissa, I received from Professor S.L. Jena (Director, Teacher Education and SCERT, Bhubaneswar), Santosh Sarangi (Director, Elementary Education, Orissa), Dr. G.C. Nanda (DPEP), Dr. Hemant Kumar Panda (SSA, Balasore), Manmohan Patra (Additional Project Director, DRDA, Finance, Keonjhar) and the Block Development Officers from Balasore, Nilgiri, Anandapur and Banspal blocks deserve a special mention.

This study would have not been possible without the generous cooperation of the villagers from the eight selected sample villages i.e. Bhanapur, Bhelpura, Chhatrapur, Betaukata from Balasore and Purunia, Belabahali, Anjar and Dangapanti from Keonjhar districts of Orissa. I thank all the villagers in general and the parents of the school going children, teachers, School Management Committee members in particular who not only cooperated in the process of data collection but also provided the favourable condition to answer my queries in-depth interview analysis.

I have had the privilege to consult a host of libraries in New Delhi namely, the Main and Centre library (JNU), National University of Educational Planning and Administration (NUUPA), National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT) and Teer Murti. I also visited some of the libraries in Orissa like, Utkal University, State Library, Nabakrushna Choudhuri Institute in Bhubaneswar and Ravenshaw College, Cuttack. I am thankful to the library staffs of these institutions for their kind cooperation. I must also place my gratitude to the University Grants Commission (UGC) for providing me JRF and SRF which helped me immensely in conducting my research without much hindrance.

I am grateful to all my friends who encouraged and provided moral support from time to time like Jayant bhai, Bhanja, Vandana, Pratyasa, Tapan, Sanjay bhai, Rati bhai, Laxman, Baikuntha, Prasanta, Pratik, Subrat and Kamala. I must record in my memory lane where I stayed almost a decade i.e. Kaveri hostel and lots of memories are attached to it like playing T.T with Sadashv, Bisubhai, James, Mantu and Rakesh and chatting with the friends in the mess.

'Home home sweet home there is no place like home'. I can not express my feelings and gratitude towards my Baba, Bau, Sana mamu, Appa, Bheni, Sanju, Lulu and Thunglu who bore with very long years of my stay outside the home and also with their perceived uncertainty of my future. It is their outstanding sacrifice, respect to my interests, constant encouragements and blessings helped me to complete the work successfully. My heart feels with sorrows that my grandfather is no more to see the completion of my study.

Finally, I acknowledge that, I alone shall be responsible for the omissions and commissions in this work.
