Acknowledgement

While I am writing acknowledgement for my thesis the first thing that comes to my mind is the day when I entered the lab which eventually became my destination for the next five years. On that day I was not sure about myself that whether I will be able to carry on a research life, as my conception about it was a life with unknown future. But after entering the lab the bubbling mood and jovial atmosphere of the lab changed my mind slowly and I discovered myself in a challenging arena of life. The person who created such a bubbling atmosphere among all my failures and depression coming from work is my advisor and guide Dr. Maitrayee DasGupta. She always inspired me and guided me and my view about life changed. It was only because of her that my mind was diverted to the magnificent world of plant science. She helped me in all possible ways to enter and explore the scientific world. Any word seems insignificantly small to describe her scientific aptitude, power of guidance, loving care for students, and never-ending enthusiasm.

The next person who was always behind me with constant support and help was Dr. Sujoy Kumar DasGupta from Bose Institute, Calcutta. If he was not been there many of my experiments would have come to standstill.

I express my sincere respect to Prof. Dhrubajyoti Chattopadhyay, present Dean of Science Faculty, Calcutta University for his encouragement during this period.

I acknowledge the support provided by Prof. Pinak Chakrabarti in modeling the Arachis CDPK.

I also acknowledge Dr. Murli Bashyam of CDFD, Hyderabad for giving me a chance to work in his lab.

I would like to thank my labmates Shubhoda, Aninditadi, Amitda, Ronitadi, Manas, Senjuti, Avijit, Sandip, Bikram and Koyel for their immense help and encouragement during these five years. Without their support this work would have been an impossible task.

I also thank Avijitda, Mahaswetadi, Abhik, Archana, Sujoy, Twisa, Bidisha, Nabanita and Prabinda of Bose Institute for the help they provided me. I also thank Rajasridi from Bose Institute and Senthil from CDFD for their help.

Coming to my friends I mention Abhik, Rupak, Rajib, Rajesh who provided me a constant support with all their enchanting words. Without their help and encouragement this work would not have been possible. I also thank Dipanjan, Subhradip, Sutapa, Krishnarup and Smarajit, for their support. My good wishes also goes to all the research fellows in the Department for their support.

My sincere recognition goes to University Grants Commission, Government of India for their uninterrupted financial support.

Finally, without the blessings of my dear parents everything would have been a total failure. They were beside me no: only in my happy days but more so in dark and disappointment. I express my heartfelt gratitude to all my family members for their constant support, love, care and blessings.

Ayan Raichaudhuri

Ayan Raichaudhuri

20.4.2006