FUTURE STUDY

Black tea extract (BTE) and green tea extract (GTE) at relatively high doses cause thyroid dysfunction. Reproductive functions are closely interrelated with thyroid physiological status. Therefore, the GTE induced testicular functions is the direct action of the GTE as well as BTE on testis or mediated through thyroid is the major concern for future research based on in vivo, in vitro and testicular cell culture.