ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am grateful to my research supervisor Dr. C. Venkatraman, Scientist “C” and Officer-in-Charge, Marine Biology Regional Centre, Zoological Survey of India, Chennai-28. This thesis would not be possible without the guidance and help from my supervisor.

Dr. Stephen Mackessy, School of Biological Sciences mentored me while I visited the University of Northern Colorado in the United States of America on Fulbright Doctoral Fellowship. I deeply acknowledge his involvement into the project.

I am thankful to Dr. K. Venkatraman, Director, Zoological Survey of India, Kolkata and Dr. Ramakrishna former Director, ZSI, Kolkata for giving permission to work for PhD in MBRC, ZSI, Chennai and for facilities provided for the research work.

My sincere thanks to Dr. J. T. Jothinayagam, Scientist “C” and Dr. K. Rema Devi, Scientist “E”, Zoological Survey of India, Chennai for giving permission to do PhD in MBRC, ZSI, Chennai.

The MBRC office of ZSI has always been very welcoming. I convey my sincere thanks to all scientists and staffs there. I am thankful to Dr. G. Sivaleela, Mr. Padmanabhan and Mr. Anand Kumar for their encouragement during the thesis work.

Dr. Revathi, Associate Professor, Department of Zoology, Ethiraj College for Women, Chennai has been supportive since the beginning. I acknowledge her sincerely for that.
Principal Chief Conservator of Forests and Chief Wildlife Warden, Thiru R. Sundararaju IFS provided necessary permissions to carry out the field work in India. I am grateful to him for all his helps. I am thankful to the District Forest Officer and other concerned officers in the Forest Department of Kancheepuram district, who graciously offered timely help.

The research in India sprouted from a conversation with Mr. Romulus Whitaker, the herpetologist who introduced me to a world of snakes and snake-loving people! His advices built the foundation which supported my entire research work in India. I am thankful to both Agumbe Rainforest Research Station and Madras Crocodile Bank wherefrom it all started.

The study was successfully done for the extensive help from the Irula Snake Catcher’s Co-operative Society. My sincere thanks are to Mr. DravidaMani, Secretary of ISCICS and Mr. Venkatesh Perumal, Special Officer. Mr. S. Rajendran, Supervisor of ISCICS introduced me to the Irula members who accompanied me throughout the fieldwork. I am deeply indebted to Mr. M. Kuppan, Mrs. K. Lakshmi, Mr. C. Kali, Mr. M. Mari, Mr. T. Velan, Mr. T. Gopal, Mrs. G. Shanthi, Mr. M. Kannan, Mrs. Rani, Mrs. C. Rajammal, Mr. S. Suresh, Mrs. S. Rani and many others of the co-operative who were my teachers and allies during four long years.

Professor Sushil K. Dutta has been supportive since the very beginning of my work. I express my gratitude to him for all the encouragement he has provided and the valuable comments he has made on the thesis draft.

Part of the study was conducted in the USA with the Fulbright-Nehru Doctoral Research Fellowship. I am deeply indebted to this award and members of the United States-India Educational Foundation (USIEF) team who have always inspired me to keep the spirit high.

I have discussed my research with scientists, herpetologists and statisticians all over the world and their advices have helped me improve it in many folds. I am deeply indebted to Dr. K. Vasudevan, Prof. I. Das, Dr. E. Smith, Shri B. C. Choudhury, Dr. K. Shanker, Dr. K. Thiayagesan, Dr. T. Lalonde, Dr. R. Nagarajan, Dr. P. A. Azeez, Dr. P. Balasubramanian, Dr. A. Bhadra, Dr. P. Chaudhury, Dr. V. Kalaiarasan, Dr. S. Bhattacharya, Prof. B. McArdle, Dr. D. SampangiRaman, Dr. K. Sudheesh, Dr. S. Janarthanan and Dr. J. Karthikeyan who have given me suggestions time to time.

My sincere thanks to Prof. R. Gadagkar who granted me a long visit in his lab in Indian Institute of Sciences, Bangalore. I owe my gratitude to Dr. S. Armstrong for his advices and help.

I am fortunate to have allies like Dr. R. Eswaran, Dr. D. Mukherjee, Dr. P. P. NikhilRaj and J. Ranjini who were there to discuss my research any time and provide support. I am indebted to Milind, Suzy, Subhajit, Minerva and Dr. A. Nandi for their help in Statistics. Dr. Nandi read the draft patiently and his comments on my thesis were really helpful. I deeply acknowledge Ms. S. Basu for her help with vegetation sampling. Sangeeta read the draft many times in spite of a very busy schedule of her own. I am truly thankful to her for all her time and the valuable inputs.

I am thankful to Tony, Pratyush, Abhijit, Chandramouli, Subbu, Nikhil, Jisha, Bhoj, Caesar, Lilly, Anne, Brittney, Jeanette, Niloofar, Viji, Shamitha, Shreenidhi and Sujan who have extended their helps whenever necessary. There are many other friends who have always been enthusiastic about my research. I am fortunate to have them in my life.

I have been cordially invited to various homes who provided timely shelter and treated me as family. I am grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Krishnan, Mr. and Mrs. Mahadevan, Mr. and Mrs. Jayadeva, Aninditadi and Ayanda, Mr. and Mrs. Buller and Mrs. Varma for their warm hospitality. I would not be able to do the last bit of my writing if a convenient place like ‘Vijaya Ladies Hostel’ did not accommodate me in time. I owe my thanks to Rajapraba, Indraakka, Suganthisakka, Prasanna, Ruby, Shiba and Anjali to bear with me throughout the course.
I can never forget the constant support which has been provided by Doelpakhi Dasgupta while writing the thesis. I am deeply indebted to her and Swami Narasimhananda who have motivated me to organize the scattered pieces.

My family has always been interested in my research. I am grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Biswas, Mr. and Mrs. Roy, Mrs. Bhoumik, Munnadi, Bablidi, Babusona, Shubho, Fuchu and Shyam for all their good wishes.

Mrs. Krishna Ghosh Dastidar and Mr. Tushar Kanti Ghosh Dastidar have been patient with their only child since the day one! They have never ceased to love me and my interest. I would not be quite myself without them. They are beyond thanks!
