Acknowledgement

The utmost satisfaction of a researcher lies as much in the completion of the job at hand, as in writing up the page of acknowledgement extending one's sincere gratitude to the persons who contributed in innumerable ways to make the research a success. In order to discharge this pleasant task, I would like at the outset to express my gratitude to my Supervisor Prof. S.K. Sareen for his constant intellectual support, sincere guidance and invaluable suggestions all through my efforts. He did steer me clear of any hurdle on the way. I simply acknowledge his contribution with reverence and regards.

I also wish to express my heartiest appreciation to the Commonwealth/ICCR for awarding me a Scholarship to pursue the Postgraduate course. To my employer-Moi University, I say 'thank you' for granting me study leave and for assisting me financially to undertake the research in the field.

I am grateful to Professors: Kapil Kapoor, Harish and Vaishna Narang, R.S. Gupta, F. Manjali, Anvita Abbi, all of the Centre of Linguistics and English (CLE), Mrs. Rita and Shri S.Rawat of CLE office JNU, my brothers Fred and Joshua, my sisters Rael, Florence and Eileen and my brothers-in-law Mr.Paul Ngochoch and Mr.Joel Toroitich for the encouragement and support. I would also like to extent my gratitude to DR.Lutta-Mukhebi Director Institute of Human Resource & Development, Lemmy Chemai, Hazel Kubebea and the staff of the Department of Communication Studies - Moi University for the support they accorded me in many ways while I was undertaking the study.

Credit is also due to the staff of the JNU library especially Shri.L.N.Malik, the staff of the Margaret Thatcher library-Moi University, and the British Council library, (Nairobi and Delhi) for their efficient assistance in helping me get access to various study materials.

The teachers and students in Baringo Secondary Schools who showed tremendous enthusiasm, and participated wholeheartedly in the research, contributed immensely to the study and do deserve my sincere thanks and good wishes.

I must extend my warmest regards to my friends and Ph.D Scholars in J.N.U: M.Charles. Z. Moturi, Issa A. Kipera, Benson O. Agaya, Faheem Hasan Shahed, Bakil Alwalss, Solomon Genet, Ravi Prasad, Jamin Masinde, Dr. Atanu Sarkar, Pema Eden, Parthasarathi Mondal, Rajnish Kumar Misra, Caleb Mpamei, Lima Jamir, Mi Yang Lee Cha, and J.K. Kwonyike of U.W.E. Bristol, and Anil Pawar of AP computers for their encouragement and friendship. Words alone are not enough to say 'Thank You'.

To my wife Rael and the children, I owe special gratitude for their encouragement, patience and readiness to miss my Love and Company so cheerfully, and so often in the course of my studies away from them.

Finally, whatever shortcomings this thesis might have, the responsibility is entirely mine.

Paul Kiprop Chepkuto