Thanks and praise to God Almighty! Without his visible and invisible care, it was impossible for me to study this text and complete my thesis.

I would like to express my deepest gratitude to Prof. Kapil Kapoor, Professor at Jawaharlal Nehru University for his heart-felt care and guidance that have contributed in the completion of this thesis. His comments and suggestion provided me with crystalline view required for my work. He told me to hold on to the simple truth in life and without his patient guidance this work would have not been completed in the way it has been.

I would also like to express my heartfelt thanks to Dr. R.S. Gupta for his substantial care and heartful suggestion and discussion.

I must acknowledge my indebtedness to the professors and friends of the Centre of Linguistic and English, School of Language, Literature & Culture Studies. In this regard special thanks are due to Professor H.S. Gill, Professor H.C. Narang, Professor A. Abbi, Professor Mukherjee and Shri P.N. Sharma who helped me a lot. I also thank Dr. Krishna Gopal for having always encouraged me. Thanks are due to my friend Mr. J.S. Baweja, Mrs. Rita and Mr. Rawat for their constant help and followup work.

Above all, I express my sincere thanks and gratitude to my expired parents who had always wanted me to pursue knowledge and good work.

I am grateful to my wife Huda who bore so much hardship and care and to my two sons Basil and Tameem who accompanied me in all the pain and joy of living in India. Thanks to them all.

A special word of thanks also goes to Mr. Bhupal Singh Bisht for doing a fine job of typing my entire thesis so efficiently and promptly.
