Acknowledgements

First of all, I am highly indebted and grateful to my Lord "Almighty Allah" for His divine providence which has enabled me to reach the present academic heights.

I would like to acknowledge the assistance and guidance extended to me by my supervisor, Professor (Dr.) Ali Mohammad, during the course of this work. He patiently provided the vision, encouragement and advice necessary for me to proceed through the doctoral program and to complete my thesis. His critique made me rethink and reformulate large portions of this work to reshape the direction of my future research.

I would like to thank the Chairman of the department, Professor (Dr.) Mobin for the research facilities provided to me during the tenure of my research work. The faculty members and allied staff of the department deserve special mention for their cooperation and assistance in the time of need.

I owe my sincere thanks to Dr. Inamuddin for the critical advices and discussions during the course of my work.

The thanks due to Omais Bhai and Nazrul Bhai for their constructive discussions and critical advices needs to be penned down at this stage. I owe a great debt to them for their magnanimous generosity, moral support and brotherly help throughout the tenure of my research.

It was not about the outcome of obtaining a PhD but instead it was about the process of getting there. I am highly thankful to sister Saima for inspiring and encouraging me to pursue a career in doctoral studies, and now her sincere advice has done wonders. I am and would always be grateful to her.

I also wish to thank my fellow-travellers on this road, the research scholars in this department, who have always shared opinions, knowledge, gossip, books, work and fun with me. I have been very lucky to be in a wonderful cohort—Shakeebee, Moheman Bhai, Sameen, Fauzia, Sardar, Nida, Tauseef and Rizwana. They are a great bunch to be a part of. It has been fun working with these people of great understanding.

"Truly great friends are hard to find, difficult to leave, and impossible to forget." I would like to acknowledge my indebtedness to my dearest friend, Nayyar, for her valuable suggestions and encouragement during the entire period of this work.

Finally, I would like to thank my Father, Mother, Taaya and Brothers for their love and support without which I certainly would not have succeeded. They have always been there for support to me emotionally, intellectually and financially. Without their sincere love and encouragements, this thesis would not have seen the light of the day.
