ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Concentration, dedication, hardwork and application are essential but not the only factors to achieve the desired goal. These must be supplemented by guidance and co-operation of people to make it success. This is the reason that research in social sciences these days has become a joint effort of man and machine today. On the one hand, the proper guidance from experts, guides, teachers and co-operation from kindpersons is essential, on the other the computer has equally important role to help the scholars in analysing the data bank for them.

In my research, the entire credit of guidance goes to my supervisor Dr. (Mrs.) Kamlesh Mahajan, Reader and Head, Department of Sociology, Ismail National Mahila P. G. College, Meerut. Her blessings, love, affection and care extended to me during this work, helped me to complete this task. I am thankful to her from the core of my heart. I have no words to thank Dr. Dharam Vir Mahajan, Reader and Head, Department of Sociology, Nanakchand Anglo Sanskrit (PG) College, Meerut for his encouragement, help and guidance in all respects throughout this study.

I am indebted to my parents, Shri Ishwar Singh and Mrs. Saroj Singh, who inspired me to do something unique in this field from the very beginning. I also feel pleasure to express my gratitude towards my husband Shri Sanjeev Rana for helping and blessings during the field work and my son Aaditya Rana, who felt neglected during the writing stage.

My entire work is centered on Panda community of Hardwar in Uttaranchal State, who were very co-operative during the field work. Their family members also extended all the help I needed during my stay in the field. My all the best wishes for the Pandas and their families. No doubt, without deeply support of Pt. N. K. Sharma and Smt. Usha Sharma, my sister Mahima Singh and Har ki Pauri Choki Incharge Shri N. P. Singh, it could have been really hard to complete this work. M/s Saksham Computers did the job work in minimum possible time.

Lastly, I am grateful to my friends in the Department of Sociology in Ismail National Mahila Post-graduate College and the Principal for their kind co-operation and encouragement from time to time.

Vandana Singh

(Vandana Singh)