ACNOWLEDGMENTS

First and foremost, I would like to place on record my everlasting gratitude to my revered supervisor, Prof. Shashikant Jha who extended his valuable guidance in planning the scheme of the thesis. He has provided me ample space to think and experiment. Moreover, his faith on me always kept my morale high, even in utter adverse of situations. However, his occasional pressure tactic and pragmatic suggestions made this work possible. Next to him I must pay my sincere gratitude to Mrs. Jha (Mam) for her constant support and help. She is the only woman who made me to understand how to prioritise my personal and public domain. My heartfelt thanks to you Mam.

I am highly indebted to Prof. R.K Jain, Prof. Ummu Salma Bawa, Dr. Bhaswati Sarkar, Dr. Gulsan Sachdeva and Dr. Sital Sharma for their constant encouragement. I pay my gratitude to the field trip committee chaired by Prof. Pushpesh Pant and Prof. C.S.R. Murty to provide me with the grant to visit Hungary. Next, I would like to thank Prof. Andras Bozoki, Prof. Janos Kis and Prof. Zsolt Enydi of Central European University, Budapest who supported my doctoral programme by giving their useful suggestions and comments. I would like to thank Prof. Lazló Kiss, Peter Rada and Peter Marton, Zsőfia Sántha of Corvinus University, Budapest for their timely help. They are the only people who made my stay in Hungary very easy and inexpensive. Thanks again to Prof. Jha who made my contact with them during a seminar in the Center for European Studies, JNU.

I would like to express my deep felt love and gratitude to Olajaniana Pawalk, Nabin Mama, Oskar and Arthur for being extremely generous in helping me to visit Poland. During this stay in Hungary and Poland I actually understood the difference of culture i.e. prevailing in post-communist Europe. However, this would have been impossible without the help of Ms. Namita Mohanty who introduced me with Ola during my stay in Sabarmati. I would like to express my sincere thanks to Dr. Arun Mohanty and Prof. Ashok Pattnaik for their empathetic guidance and help during this work.

I am grateful to the staff of JNU Central library, CEU library (Budapest), OSA Archives library (Budapest), IDSA Library (New Delhi), Center for European Studies Library (JNU, SIS), Library of Hungarian Information and Cultural Center (New Delhi) for helping me in collection of relevant material for this research.

Pursuit of research would not have been smooth without the University Grant Commission’s Fellowship. Anyway, occasional funding by my family especially my spouse Arabinda made the journey easier and interesting. His critical comments and very sensible suggestions really made this work feasible. I feel very fortunate to have you and our family by my side during these hectic years. Yes, you all became the constant source of encouragement. Your faith and love made this work really enjoyable.
I am indebted to my parents for having encouraged me in every step of my life, Bou for inspiring me with her empathetic keenness to work and Bapa for teaching me much about life made this work pleasurable. I am also very thankful to my sisters Merry and Lorry for their emotional support throughout my journey to complete PhD.

Special thanks are due to my friends, Monika, Shyam, Nidhi, Manali, Sonki, Smarika, Ayesha, Anirudha, Arun, Sumant Bhai, Bui Apa, Manoj Bhai, Lopa, Tapan Da for their love, affection and encouragement. Thanks to all of you for your support during very hectic days of writings, corrections and finalisation.

Thanking all of you.

New Delhi 12.02.10

Shakti Pradayani Jena