CONTENTS

Declaration

List of Figure and tables

Abbreviations

Acknowledgments

Preface

Chapter I ..................................................................... 1–26

What is Political Development?

1.1 Aspects of Development

1.2 Political Development as Democratic Modernisation, Capacity and Order

1.3 Political Development as Economic Self-sufficiency & Self-dependency

3.1 Development & Underdevelopment

3.2 Dependency

3.3 Imperialism

1.4 Political development as Transition & Democratic Consolidation

1.5 Political Development in Hungary in Post-Communist era

Conclusion

Chapter II .................................................................. 27–76

Introduction

II.1 Gorbachev Factor

II.2 Political & Ideological Factors

II.3 End of Cold War and Changed Role of NATO

II.4 EU and Consolidation of Democracy in CEECs

II.5 Western Influence through Media

II.6 USAID and its initiative for Democratisation

II.7 Dissident Movements and Rising of Opposition in Eastern Europe

II.8 Raising of Nationalism in the early 1980s in Eastern Europe

8.1 Historical Factors: the case of Hungary

II.9 New Changes after the 1990s

9.1 Development in Post-Communist Poland

9.2 Development in Post-Communist Romania

9.3 Development in Post-Communist Bulgaria

9.4 Development in Post-Communist Cezechoslovakia

Conclusion
Chapter III........................................................................77–128

Introduction

III.1 Evolution of Hungarian Constitution
   1.1 Constitution Making and Creation of Institutional Structures
   1.2 Role of Freedom of Association Act
   1.3 Recognition of Individual Rights

III.2 Hungarian National Assembly
   2.1 Election & Mandate
   2.2 Organisational Power
   2.2.1 Electoral and Other Functions
   2.2.2 Basic Functions
   2.2.3 Legislative Initiative
   2.2.4 Parliamentary Privileges
   2.2.4.1 Privileges of Member of Parliament
   2.3 Legislative–Executive Relations
      2.3.1 The sessions and Sittings of National Assembly

III.3 The Prime Minister: The Executive Head
   3.1 Motion of No Confidence
   3.2 Emergency Powers

III.4 The President of the Republic
   4.1 Election Procedure
   4.2 Qualification, Tenure & Reelection
   4.3 Removal of President
   4.4 Power of President

III.5 Committees

III.6 Officers of National Assembly
   6.1 Speaker of National Assembly
   6.2 Deputy Speakers of the National Assembly
   6.3 Notaries of the National Assembly

III.7 Judiciary
   7.1 The Constitutional Court
   7.1.1 The Role of Constitutional Court
   7.1.2 Qualifications of Judges

III.8 The Ombudsman
   8.1 The Parliamentary Ombudsman of Civil Rights
   8.1.1 Legal Status of Ombudsman
   8.1.2 Immunity
   8.2 Data Protection Ombudsman
   8.3 The Ombudsman & Democracy

III.9 The Constitution Amendment Rules

Conclusion

Chapter IV........................................................................129–74

Introduction

Conceptual Frameworks and Interpretations

IV.1 Marxist Interpretation
IV.2 Non Marxist Interpretation: Third World Perspective
IV.3 Role of Political Elite in Shaping Political Culture
   3.1 Nature of Elite in CEECs
   3.2 Elite Transformation During the 1990s
IV.4 Nature of Hungarian Political Culture
   4.1 Political Culture and Democracy
   4.2 Legacy of Communism
   4.3 Political Agreement during 1989-Round Table Talks (RTTs)
   4.4 Changes in Elite-Structure after 1990
   4.5 Party Polarisation: A New Trend
   4.6 Raising Populism after 1998
   4.7 Politics of National Re-unification after the 1990s
IV.5 Corruption: A Persisting Problem
IV.6 Political Attitudes
IV.7 Civil Society: The Changing Trends
   7.1 Recent Developments in Civil Society
   7.2 Raising Civil Society Advocacy
   7.3 Civil Society and the Hungarian Media
Conclusion

Chapter V ............................................................................. 175–223
Introduction
Characteristics of Political Parties
V.1 Function and Role of the Political Parties
V.2 Changes in the Electoral Laws 1989–90
   2.1 The Agreement between Ruling and Opposition
   2.2 Changing Electoral Rules
   2.3 Critical Assessment of Electoral Rules
V.3 The Origin & Establishment of Parties
   3.1 Ideological Classifications
   3.2 Restructuring Parties on Societal Lines
V.4 Hungarian Parties: An Overview
   4.1 Hungarian Socialist Democratic Party (MSZP)
   4.2 Independent Smallholders’ Party (ISP)
   4.3 Alliance of Free Democrats (SZDSZ)
   4.4 Hungarian Democratic Forum (MDF)
   4.5 Alliance of Young Democrats (FIDESZ)/Hungarian Civic Party (MPP)
   4.6 Hungarian Justice and Life Party (MIEP)
   4.7 The Movement for A Better Hungary
   4.8 Christian Democratic People’s Party (KNDP)
   4.9 The Associations of Somogy
   4.10 The Centre Party
   4.11 The European Green Party
V.5 Parliamentary Election: Party Performance
   5.1 Elections to First Parliament (1990)
   5.2 Election to Second Parliament (1994)
5.3 Elections to Third Parliament (1998)
5.4 Elections to Fourth Parliament (2002)
5.5 Elections to Fifth Parliament (2006)
V.6 Oppositions
Conclusion

Chapter VI........................................................................224–34
Conclusion

REFERENCES........................................................................235–49