CONTENTS

Page NO.

Declaration by the candidate
Supervisor’s Certificate
Acknowledgement
List of Tables
List of Figures
List of Photographs
List of Abbreviations

CHAPTER - I
INTRODUCTION
1.1 Introduction
1.2 Definition of concepts
1.3 Information needs
1.4 Information Behavior
1.5 Information Seeking
1.6 Information Seeking Behaviors
1.7 Models of Information Seeking Behavior
1.8 User Studies
1.9 Reading
1.10 Reading Habits
1.11 Objectives of the Study
1.12 Hypothesis
1.13 Scope of this Study
1.14 Research Methodology
1.15 Literature Survey
1.16 Tools Used
1.17 Construction of Questionnaire
1.18 Pre-testing
1.19 Sampling and Population
1.20 Administration of the Questionnaire
1.21 References
CHAPTER- II

REVIEW OF LITRATURE

2.1 International User Studies
2.2 Indian User Studies

CHAPTER – III

LEGAL PROFESSION

3.1 Introduction
3.2 Legal Profession
3.3 The Indian Legal Profession in Evolution
3.4 Role of Lawyers in Free India
3.5 Legal education
3.6 Law Schools and Legal Education in India As Well As C.G
3.7 The importance of the legal profession in our society
3.8 Importance of Judiciary in Democratic Setup
3.9 Judiciary of India
3.10 Role of Computer in law
3.11 References

CHAPTER - IV

ANALYSIS AND INTERPRETATION OF DATA

4.1 Distribution of response by Age group
4.2 Distribution of response by legal domain
4.3 Distribution of response by personal library
4.4 Distribution of Responses by Specialization
4.5 Distribution of Responses by Information Sources
4.6 Distribution of response by need of soft ware for solve and pending cases
4.7 Distribution of response of formal sources
4.8 Distribution of Responses by Awareness and Access to Key Websites
4.9 Distribution of response by problem of gathering the legal information
CHAPTER – V

FINDINGS AND SUGGESTIONS

5.1 Findings
5.2 Suggestions

APPENDICES

- Bibliography  162-197
- Questionnaire