“The journey of thousand miles begins with a single step”

Successful completion of a well cherished task in the scientific methodology is its own rewards. Writing of this thesis is the end of my long journey for Ph.D at NJIL&OMD, Tajganj, Agra. At the same time, remembering the love, support, guidance, encouragement received from the teachers, seniors, colleagues, friends and all dear and near ones is an experience of its own kind. Words are not enough to express the feelings of heart for those persons who have accompanied me on this long journey. It is my privilege to take the opportunity to say thanks to all those who have directly or indirectly helped me in completing this thesis work. Acknowledging them for their noble deeds is a matter of great pleasure for me.

In presenting this thesis, first and foremost, I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude and heartiest thanks to my guide Dr. Keshar Kunja Mohanty, Scientist-E, Immunology division, NJIL&OMD(ICMR), Agra, for giving me the opportunity to carry out Ph.D work under her kind and expert guidance. Her constant guidance, support, encouragement and constructive criticism, made me able to develop necessary scientific skills to undertake and complete the objectives of the thesis successfully. It has been a great experience to working under her supervision and learning from her scientific and administrative knowledge and experience. Her integral view on research, efforts and willingness to learn new things and to do high quality research work to answer research questions, made a deep impression and created scientific attitude in me. Above all, I found her a great and kind human being. During the period of this thesis, I never saw her getting angry on any one in any situation.

I don’t have words to express my gratitude to Dr. Vishwa Mohan Katoch, Former, Secretary DHR and DG ICMR for the love, favour, encouragement and guidance I received from him, since the time of my post-graduation. It was his vision to open the gate of NJIL&OMD to the university students, so that they are exposed to world class research. I found him a great administrator, scientist and above all, a great person whose life always encourages the next generation to work hard and to achieve great goals. It is my good luck to interact with such a great person and also get opportunity to work under his great supervision. I will be highly grateful to him to be a co-supervisor in my thesis.

It was a matter of pride, to interact with Dr. P.K.Tiwari, Centre for Genomics, Jiwaji University, Gwalior. My heartiest thanks to him for giving me permission to work under his supervision and agreed to be co-supervisor in my thesis. I found him a very cool person with great teaching and research attitude.

At this moment I wish to express my heartiest gratitude to Mr. Raj Kumar Bharti, my first teacher who taught me during my school days.

I wish to express my deepest feeling of gratitude to Dr. Beenu Joshi, Scientist-E, Immunology lab, NJIL&OMD, Agra. She is the senior most person and mentor of our Immunology lab. She has a very caring nature. She always take care of everyone in the lab. I shall always remain thankful to her for her love, guidance and encouragement all through my stay at JALMA.
I am also grateful to Dr. Kiran Katoch, Former Director, NJIL&OMD, Agra, who gave me permission to register for Ph.D and also permitted me to submit research proposal to ICMR for Fellowship. Her dedication towards work and stamina to do that, encourages the next generation to do work hard in any situation.

My sincere thanks to Dr. Srikanth Prasad Tripathy, Director NJIL&OMD, Agra, for permitting me to continue my work and providing necessary support to accomplish research work. I am highly thankful to Dr. D.S. Chauhan, Scientist-D & Head Department of Microbiology and Molecular Biology, NJIL&OMD, Agra for providing the facilities to carry out microbiological work.

I gratefully acknowledge Dr. Deepa Bisht, Scientist-D, Biochemistry Division for her favour and encouragement received during my thesis work.

I feel blessed to be associated with the Scientists of JALMA, Dr. V.D. Sharma, Dr. O.P. Verma, Dr. K. Venketasaran, Dr. Mohan Natarajan, Dr. V.K. Sharma, Dr. U.D. Gupta, Dr. Anil Gupta, Dr. V.S. Yadav, Dr. H.B. Singh, Dr. Ajayveer Singh and Dr. P.S. Mohanty.

My heartiest thanks to Scientists (Medical) of JALMA, Dr. Rajkamal, Dr. Mamta Arora, Dr. Anita Giridhar, Dr. Dharampal, Dr. J.K. Chakma and all paramedical workers of OPD, JALMA for providing necessary facilities and their interest to provide leprosy samples for the research work. At this occasion I want to express my special thanks to Rajesh Rathore, Technical Officer, for his willingness to actively involve in the research work and selflessly help me in sample collection.

My heartfelt acknowledgement to Dr. Bharat Bajaj, Medical Officer, STDC, Agra, Rajesh and Chandra Mohan, lab technician for their selfless interest in providing TB samples.

I am highly thankful to Mr. M.M. Alam, Mr. M.S. Tomar and Ravi Rawat, Technical staff of our laboratory for their help during my stay at JALMA, especially during sample collection. My heartiest thanks to Jitendra Yadav and Rajesh Singh for their help in microbiological work. My heartiest thanks to Lekhraj Yadav, Lalman and Dorilal, attendants of our lab for their help.

I am grateful to the administrative staff of the institute for their indispensible help extended during my working period. I wish to mention the names of Mr. J. Robi, Mr. Rajesh Sharma, Mr. Bhupendra Yadav, Mr. R.S. Yadav and Mr. R.K. Sharma for their cooperation.

My heartfelt acknowledgement to my seniors, Rahul Sharma, Gaurav Jadon, Pushpendra Singh, Anuj Gupta, Prashant Sharma, Prashant Upadhyay, Mallika Lawaniya, Pragya Sharma, Neelja Singhal, who created a great working atmosphere at JALMA.

Many thanks to my senior colleagues Pradeep Daugur, Gavish Kumar, Itu Singh, Bhawna Sharma, Nidhi Arela, Vandana Singh for their support and encouragement. My special thanks to my senior Mayank Mittal, who helped me to learn several techniques and also suggested me the current work. I spent very good time with him at JALMA. My heartfelt gratitude to Dr. Ekata Sinha for her active involvement in sample collection and help in data analysis.

Friends and friendship are for forever, time spent with them always remembered. I am blessed by God with nice company of friends and colleagues. I wish to express my thanks to Krishna Dutta Rawat, Hari Shankar, Rakesh Patel, Rajni, Bhavyata, Chanchal, Tarun Sachan, Tahseen Anwar, Bhavnesh, Mamta, Dilip, Divakar, Manju, Yash, Pushpendra, Brajendra, Ravi Prakash (Gwalior) for their help, love, encouragement and memorable company they provided me during my stay at NJIL&OMD, Agra.

My heartfelt acknowledgement and blessings to my juniors, Amit, Bishal, Amita, Dheeraj, Rananjay and Abhinendra for all the support and assistance they provided me in my work. My heartfelt thanks to the M.Sc dissertation students, Anjana, Hina, Swati, Bimbisar, Naseem, Himanshu, Sonal and others for their assistance.

I wish to express my deep sense of gratitude to the Department of Science and Technology, New Delhi and Indian Council of Medical research, New Delhi for providing financial support and fellowship for this work.

My heartfelt gratitude towards all the patients and healthy individuals who willingly and selflessly donated blood for this research work. My heartfelt sympathy with the patients, suffering from the disease and their family members. May God bless them with good health soon and they live a happy life with their families.

Finally, at last before completing this chapter, I wish to express my heartiest deep sense of gratitude to my respected and beloved parents, whose love, affection and guidance always kept me on right track of life. Whatever I achieved so far, has been possible only due to their hard work, blessings, love and sacrifices they made in their life for me. They always stood with me in my ups and downs of life and showed me the way to overcome all the difficult situations. Without their virtues, I would have been a lamp without oil. My heartfelt gratitude to my younger brothers Sumant, Sukant and to my lovely sister Pratima for their support, encouragement and love. I cannot imagine, a single moment of my life without their love and affection.

At last I bow my head in the feet of GOD and would like to thank, for always being with me in my good and bad, giving me strength to overcome all the difficult situations of life.
