ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

My gratitude to Prof. Chandrasekhar Bhat, my supervisor, for his invaluable assistance, unending patience, and understanding through out my research work. I thank him for introducing me to the Diaspora Studies and as the Convenor, Centre for the Study of Indian Diaspora, he provided me all the infrastructural facilities at the Centre for my research work.

I thank Prof. E. Haribabu and Dr. K. LakshmiNarayan for their constant help and suggestions during my M.A and M.Phil. I also thank Dr. K. J. Vijayatilakam, Dr. Vinod Jairath, and Dr. Sasheej Hegde, for their encouragement in carrying out my research work.

Prof. Rama Narasimham, Department of Telugu; Prof. Sivaramamurthy, Director, International Telugu Centre and Prof. Vishwanatham, Guest faculty, Department of Sociology have helped me in providing their views and information on the Telugus abroad. I thank Prof. E Rama Reddy, Librarian, IGM Library, for allowing me to use the facilities available at the Computer Centre in the Library.

I thank all my respondents in the United States for finding time to answer my Questionnaire and to all the maintainers of the quoted web sites. My special thanks to the maintainers of the web sites www.excite.com and www.goplay.com for allowing me to open free e-mail accounts.

My thanks to Prof. C.N. Kaul, Nalini Kaul, Mr. Ch.V.T. Rao, and Ch.Shobha for their affection and help during my stay at Hyderabad. I am grateful to Mr.C. Pradeep for introducing me to the world of computers and C. Padmaja, for their warmth, understanding and words of encouragement, which made me feel at home.

The staff at the Department of Sociology, Mr. Madhusudhan, Mr. Suryanarayana and Mr. Tirupatayya have always been helpful.

It is difficult to mention all the people who have helped me in various ways during my stay at Hyderabad University. I thank Sadanand Sahoo, Nagaraju, Srinivas and Madhukar for their help, without whose assistance, the production of this thesis would have been a difficult task. Ananth, Sriram, Raja, Raj, Bharu, Parthu, Anu, Sri, Sravanthi, Sandhya, Yonas, Jaskirath and Jennifer have made my load lighter with their constant friendship.

A special thanks to my parents who always have supported my desire to continue my studies in Hyderabad; to my brothers Hari and Shankar, my sister- in- law, Lakshmi: and to Ravi, Gayatri and the little Harhsini for their love.
