ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

My first thank is to Almighty God, who made my life more bountiful during these five years. May your name be exalted, honoured, and glorified!

I would like to thank all people who have helped and inspired me during my doctoral work.

I gratefully acknowledge Chairman, Department of Geography and supervisor, Prof. Hifzur Rahman for his advice, supervision, and crucial contribution, which made him a backbone of this research and so to this thesis. I have been amazingly fortunate to have an advisor who gave me the freedom to explore on my own and at the same time the guidance to recover when my steps faltered. His involvement with his originality has triggered and nourished my intellectual maturity that I will benefit from, for a long time to come. In addition, he was always accessible and willing to help his students with their research. Hence, research life became smooth and rewarding for me.

I owe my sincere thanks to Prof. Mohd. Farooq Siddiqui (Retd.), Department of Geography, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh for time to time evaluating the work. It is also a pleasure to mention the names of Prof. Farasal Ali Siddiqui, Prof. Ali Mohammad and Prof. Abdul Munir for their supervision, advice, and guidance from the very early stage of this research as well as giving me extraordinary experiences through out the work.

My deepest gratitude is due to the Department of Geography that provided the support and equipment I have needed to produce and complete my thesis. I am grateful to the seminar incharge, Mrs. Talat Kannez and librarians in the Geography Department, for helping the department to run smoothly and for assisting me in many different ways. Lab Assistant in Cartography Mr. Munney Khan and Mr. Javed helped me a lot during the map making stage. I am thankful to very generous, Mr. Ashfaque, University Computer Centre, A.M.U., Aligarh, whom I consulted at the times when to take help in statistical calculations.

It is not possible to thank individually all the officials and non-officials who have been helpful in placing at my disposal all the desired materials connected with my research work. Nevertheless, my sincere thanks are due to the library of Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR) and the Indian Agricultural Research Institute (IARI) in New Delhi; Maulana Azad Library and Seminar Library of the Department, A.M.U. Aligarh.

Thanks are also due to the Director General of Observatories, Indian Meteorological Department, New Delhi, who has kindly placed at my disposal all the relevant climate records and data. I also appreciate the job done by the departments: Irrigation Department, Agricultural Department (Krishi Bhawan), Directorate of Agriculture and Economics and Water and Land Management Institute (WALMI), Lucknow for providing me secondary data which I needed in my research.

My deepest respects are to my roommate and one of my best friends Dr. (Mrs.) Shikha Chauhan, Women Scientist, Department of Science and Technology (DST), Department of Physics, A.M.U. Aligarh. She has always been a source of inspiration to me at Sarojini Naidu Hall. I here, appreciate her for giving me encouragement and care during long three and more years in the hostel.

I am grateful to my best friend, Dr. Deepika Varshney, for reading my thesis; commenting on my views and helping me understand and enrich my ideas. With her enthusiasm, inspiration, and great efforts to explain, things became clear and simple.
Throughout my thesis-writing period, she provided encouragement, sound advice, good teaching and lots of good ideas.

I wish to acknowledge the support of Dr. Kaneez Zaman (senior) in the collection of secondary data. Thanks are also due to Zafar Iqbal (junior), Department of Geography, Mr. Arun Pratap Singh (elder brother), Assistant professor at Jahangirabad Trust College of Engineering and Technology, Barabanki, and Mr. Chandra Veer Shekhawat (younger brother), who helped me during the field surveys. I again want to thank Ms. Deepika Varshney, who accompanied me during all the tedious field surveys. I sincerely want to thank Mr. and Mrs. Umar Mumtaj along with their family who provided me homely accommodation and care during one of my field surveys at Barabanki. I also mention the name of Mr. Om Prakash Kannan, Assistant Development Officer, Sikandarpur Sarosi, Unnao, providing me assistance during the survey.

Thanks are due to all my lab buddies at the Department of Geography who made it a convivial place to work. In particular, I would like to thank Dr. Anisur Rehman and Dr. Kamal Asif (seniors) for their friendly help and co-operation in the past five years. I owe my personal thanks to Mrs. Sameen Haseeb (Ph.D. student in Department of Statistics) who helped me, whenever, I faced problems in understanding statistical calculations. She patiently explained me the formulas of statistics used in the thesis.

I am indebted to my many friends for providing a stimulating and fun environment in which to learn and grow. I am especially grateful to Anjali Garg, Tarab Nain, Mrs. Nazima Umar, Dr. (Mrs.) Nida Anis, Dr. Menka, Tuhina Islam, Bashara Bano, Mahvish Anjum, Nasreen Banu, Zeba Nisar, Bulbul Nargis Sultan, Ullas T, Dr. Zahir Abbas, Junaidur Rahman, Naier Zaidi, Md. Shamshad and Dr. Abu Ishaq Pk at Aligarh.

I wish to thank my best friends in high school and intermediate (Sweety Jain, Ritu Jain and Madhu), and my best friends as graduate and post-graduate students (Sadaf Anjum, Fouzia Zahoor, Nazia Usmani, Nayala Usmani, Sana Afreen, Huma Rizwan, Syed Soom, Nasheen Naz and Humam Khurshid), for helping me get through the difficult times, and for all the emotional support, camaraderie, entertainment, and caring they provided.

Lastly, and most importantly, I wish to thank my parents, Mrs. Ganga Shri (mother) and Mr. Chandan Singh (father), for their faith in me and for supporting me throughout all my studies at University. I have no suitable words that can fully describe my mother’s everlasting love to me. To them I dedicate this thesis. I feel proud of my brother Mr. Arun Pratap Singh, for his talents. He had been a role model for me to follow unconsciously and has always been one of my best counsellors.

Finally, I appreciate the financial support from University Grants Commission (UGC) for awarding me JRF and SRF positions during the entire course since 14th December, 2009 till end of the work.

While all these people have contributed in diverse ways in bringing this study to a successful completion, I absolve all of them from any shortcomings of this thesis; all shortcomings are entirely my responsibility.
