ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This acknowledgement is a humble appreciation of my sense of gratitude towards all those who have been instrumental in extending their whole-hearted cooperation and support for the successful completion of this research work. But none the less, I must confess that writing this acknowledgement has been the most testing of all, particularly when one is inundated with the list of who to thank and exactly what to thank them for.

First of all, I prefer to thank my guide (Prof. B.P.SINGH), for his able guidance, incisive remarks, insightful comments, kind words and invaluable academic support during the entire course of this research. His suggestions and inputs greatly helped me to improve every part of my research work. I owe enormously to you, sir. I would also like to thank Mr. D. Bandopadhaye (ROC, West Bengal) & Mr. B. Mohanty (Official Liquidator, West Bengal) who took out time from their busy schedule to attend my queries. I would also like to thank Prof. Siddhanath and Prof. Rakesh Khanna. They have been immensely co-operative in extending all help. Their valuable inputs were of immense help while developing the practical dimensions of this research work.

I am also grateful to the library staff of Allahabad University as well as the library staff of WBNUJS, Kolkata, for their courtesy, patience and help.

On a personal note, I extend my sincerest gratitude to my family for their encouragement and for reposing confidence in me. Their love and support from initial to final level of this research kept me going, and without which this arduous task would have been too arduous.

Thank you,

NAMRATA GUPTA
