The title of the Thesis is “United State’s Media’s Portrayal of Persian Gulf Wars: 1991 and 2003. I have been working on the chapter since the year 2003 and since then have been involved in the research work and the related endeavors which have been associated with the work. First of all I would like to extend my heartfelt thankfulness to my esteemed Supervisor Prof. K.P. Vijayalakshmi based in the School of International Studies in Jawaharlal Nehru University. I was fortunate enough to be selected in the Canadian, United States and Latin American Division in the School of International Studies Division of Jawaharlal Nehru University which entailed a great deal of competition and what followed was a patient, enlightening and engaging time through the years of my Mhil in the School of international Studies.

My Supervisor, Prof. K.P. Vijayalakshmi teaches in the Center for Canadian, United States and Latin America in the School of International Studies in Jawaharlal Nehru University. My first meeting with my Supervisor was as candidate aspiring for a seat in the American Center as it was nomenclatured those days. I was selected and my odyssey of accurate, rigorous and quality research work continued unabated under her benign and extremely enlightening guidance which filled me up with the fervour and the zeal to be a stickler for finer details and authenticity in the art of writing and research. I was ably and consistently driven to excel in my research endeavors with her skill and immense expertise. Sincere and brainstorming sessions with my Supervisor served as a beacon par excellence to progress onwards in the collection and collation of relevant and valuable Data in an indefatigable and untiring manner. She taught me the nitty gritty of writing and research with her astute acumen and expertise.

The list is not long and the words reflect meaning. I would like to thank my personal God Almighty, who lighted a candle of love and enlightened me no bounds to bring this work to a holistic and fulsome fruition. I am highly thankful to a few special people in my life who have been a source of continuous support and inspiration for me while I labored on my laptop with my notes and research material during the tedious yet immensely satisfying process which went into the writing of the Book. I burned a lot of midnight oil and spilled several cups of coffee and now my work is ready. I am deeply indebted to my late maternal Grandfather Dr. Gopinath
Sharma, a Professor of History in Rajasthan University, who regaled me with sonorous tales on Indian history and anecdotes of our Founding fathers, my maternal Grandmother, (Late) and my paternal Grandmother (Late) and paternal Grand Father (Late). Their invisible yet earnestly felt blessings have fruited and blossomed into this work as it appears before you now. Next in line, I thank my parents, Shri Bhoopendra Dwivedi and Smt. Vinay Prabha Dwivedi, for having provided me with the opportunity to read books and send me to the best Schools and educational institutions which was beyond the meager financial means of my lovable and adorable parents.

I am highly thankful to respected Prof. V.S. Mani for having provided me with the much needed guidance for the completion of the work without which I would not have not been able to complete the work. Prof Mani is a ex-Professor of Space Law in the School of International Studies in JNU and currently serves as the Director of the School of Law and Governance in Jaipur National University in Jaipur, Rajasthan. He instilled in me a spirit and habit of hard work and consistent research work which I am highly indebted to. I feel deep gratitude for the unstinting support provided to me by my better half Pooja as without her exhortations and persistent goading, it would have been an uphill task for me. I would like to extend my support to my students in the Gujarat National Law University, namely, Dinesh and Girish who helped me during my stay in Delhi and provided excellent and efficient ancillary support. I would also like to extend my heartfelt thankfulness the staff of the JNU, IIMC, ACL libraries in New Delhi for having supported me.

Finally, all the shortcoming in this work are solely my responsibility.
