ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and foremost, I am grateful to the Almighty, by the grace of whom I would have been able to undertake this assignment.

Even though the list of well-wishers and supporters is endless, yet the first name that comes to my mind is of my external guide Dr. Suresh Jain at TERI University, without whom this work could ever have been accomplished. It has been an honor to be his Ph.D. student. He has taught me, both consciously and unconsciously, how good analytical research is done. I appreciate all his contributions of time, ideas and guidance to make my Ph.D. experience productive and stimulating.

I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude towards my internal guides at UPES, Dr. Arvind Kumar Jain and Dr. Hiranmoy Roy for guiding me throughout the course of the research work, discussing the problems encountered, giving solutions and providing me all the help I ever needed.

The joy and enthusiasm during research work was contagious and motivational for me, even during tough times in the Ph.D. pursuit. The members of the FRC have contributed immensely to my personal and professional time at UPES, especially Dr. D.K. Punia and Dr. Tarun Dhingra, who consistently helped me in rectifying my shortcomings and making my thesis precise, Dr. K. K. Pandey, who implemented his knowledge through the resourceful intervention in data analysis with reference to statistical know-how and
Dr. M.S. Pahwa for his support where expertise in economics was required. The group has been a source of friendship as well as good advice and collaboration. I am grateful to the CCE head, Wg Cdr P. K. Gupta, Dr Anjali Midha and other members, who helped me to facilitate an excellent administration.

Words are inadequate in offering my thanks to Mr. Rajesh Kumar Singh and other colleagues for their encouragement and cooperation in carrying out the research work.

Finally, yet importantly, I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to my family members, especially my parents for their blessings and my wife and son, who constantly bore with me even when I was not able to spare time for them, my in-laws, who constantly motivated me through thick and thin, my friends and well-wishers for their help and wishes for the successful completion of this thesis. I would also like to thank Ms. Priyanka Chauhan for her creative contribution towards helping in DTP work.

Finally, I would like to appreciate the efforts of Mr. Neeraj Sharma for his meticulous editorial assistance to sail through the completion of my thesis.
