ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and foremost, I would like to express my deepest sense of gratitude and indebtedness to my supervisor Dr. A.K. Goswami, Professor and Head of the Department of Sanskrit, Gauhati University, for his constant help and guidance. Dr. Goswami, in spite of his busy schedule with his involvement in various departmental and social activities, had very generously managed time for my work. But for his inspiration and untiring effort completion of this work would not have been possible.

I would like to thank Professor R.N. Sharma, and Dr. (Mrs.) S. Purkayastha and Dr. Dipak Kr. Sarma, faculty members of the Department of Sanskrit, Gauhati University, for very kindly lending me relevant books from their personal collection. The encouragement received from Mrs. Beena Devi Goswami, my 'Gurupatni', towards completion of my work is recorded with gratitude.

I am extremely thankful to my brother-in-law, Mr. Swaroop Sharma, who took trouble to have this work printed in the computer.

Last but not the least, my sincere gratitude goes to my parents, my in-laws and my husband. My late father Dr. J.N. Baruah was the driving force behind to encourage me to take up the research scheme but could not see it completed. I must acknowledge the constant encouragement I received from my mother, Mrs. Aruna Baruah and also my father-in-law Mr. D. C. Sharma. My husband, Mr. Siddhartha Sharma, had always been the source of inspiration all throughout the period of my research. He had helped me tremendously by relieving me all responsibilities of the domestic chore, thereby enabling me to concentrate in my work, the result of which is this humble presentation.
