I dedicate my research work to my father Late Hira Lal Gogoi. It was Deuta who ignited the inquisitiveness in me as a child to explore new horizons while learning. A living dictionary for his children, his passion for other discipline created a milieu of appreciating, learning and understanding at home. This is why I imbibed certain values inherently from him, like seeking the truth. This work is one such example. Hence, it has been dedicated to him.