ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

A dissertation is never an individual pursuit. Instead, it requires the support and advice of interested parties for its successful completion. I am thankful that my support group was very generous in offering their time and talents.

No extent of portrayal, in word or deed, would suffice to convey my gratitude to my esteemed guide Dr. S.GURUSAMY, Reader in commerce, D.G. Vaishnav College, Chennai – 106. His patience, guidance and sacrifices for the successful completion of this dissertation are greatly appreciated. He served as both my advisor and my role model and judiciously guided me in the matters of professional development. Most importantly, he was always there to answer a question, to give advice and to offer assistance. I express my profound gratitude and indebtedness to him.

I am grateful to the management of D.G. Vaishnav College, Dr.B.Krishnan, Principal, Dr. T.S. Vembu, Head. Department of Commerce, D.G.Vaishnav college, Chennai – 106 for providing me an opportunity to join in this Ph.D programme under part – time and to do this work.

I am highly indebted to Dr.Ranganatham, Professor of Commerce, University of Madras for all the help he rendered in the course of selection of title of this research and the planning of thesis.

A very special word of thanks to Dr.M.V.Arulalan, Reader, Dept of Commerce, Guru Nanak College, Chennai, for motivating me to pursue this research work and having evinced keen interest in its completion.

I am exceptionally grateful to Prof.T.S.Reddy, Dept. of commerce, Guru Nanak College, Chennai for the useful discussions and help rendered to me in the course of my work.
I am thankful to Dr. S. Jayakumar, Reader in Commerce, Guru Nanak College, Chennai for his inspiration and constant encouragement.

I record my thanks to my colleagues professors T. Munirathinam, S. Duraisamy, S. Nithyananthan and A. Krishnan, Dept. of Corporate Secretaryship, Govt. Arts college, Tiruttani, each of whom always had my best interest at heart.

My thanks are due to Dr. S. Ravanar, Lecturer (S.G), Department of Statistics, Presidency College, Chennai for all the help rendered by him in data processing and analysis.

I am also grateful to all the respondents to the questionnaire who have been good enough to spare their valuable time to fill up the questionnaire, which has been the backbone of the study.

Above all, I thank and praise God Almighty for giving me the wisdom and guidance to complete the study.
