ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to express my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. G. Jayaraman, Senior Lecturer, Department of Genetics, University of Madras for suggesting the problem and for his constant valuable guidance/advice during the course of this investigation.

I am extremely grateful to Prof. P.M. Gopinath, Professor and Head, Department of Genetics for his constant encouragement and for providing facilities.

My gratitude is also due to all the staff members especially Dr. A. Ramesh of the Department of Genetics for their help and encouragement.

I thank Dr. C. N. Paramasivan, Deputy Director, Tuberculosis Research Centre, Madras for providing mycobacterial strains; Prof. K. Dharmalingam, Director, School of Biotechnology, Madurai Kamaraj University, Madurai for providing E. coli strains and for his valuable discussions; and Dr. Lalji Singh, Deputy Director, Centre for Cellular and Molecular Biology, Hyderabad for providing facilities for sequencing.

I would like to thank: Dr. K. Balamurugan, Miami Children’s Hospital and Research Institute, Florida, USA for his generous gift of various chemicals and enzymes; and constant encouragement in all possible ways; Dr. R. Ramalingam, Roche Institute of Molecular Biology, New Jerky, USA for his manifold assistance during my work.
I would like to thank Mr. Ester Raj Solomon for the technical help rendered by him. My thanks are also extended to all other colleagues in the department for their encouragement and support.

My thanks are also due to my colleagues Dr. A. Jamal Mohamed, K. Subramanian, S. Krishnamurthy and R. Murugesan for their willing help and cooperation in various ways during the present investigation.

I would like to thank Dr. K. Thangaraj, Scientist, CCMB, Hyderabad for his valuable help at various levels during the course of study.

I am grateful to Dr. C. Damodaran, Deputy Director, Forensic science department, Madras for his moral support. I would like to thank Dr. S. Karuthapandian for his help and his suggestions.

My thanks are also due to Dr. Vidya Jayasankar for her willing help and encouragement.

It is my privilege and pride to express my gratitude to my beloved wife Mitsu and other family members for their struggle with me and also for the help rendered to me through the most difficult decisions.

The financial assistance in the form of fellowship, from the CSIR, Government of India is gratefully acknowledged.

N. SREEDHAR REDDY