Acknowledgements

The present study has been carried out among adolescent girls in the city of Howrah, one of the rich urban heritage centers of the state of West Bengal, India. At every phase of study, many people have been involved and their collective efforts led to the successful accomplishment of the work. It is a great pleasure to convey my gratitude to those who not only rendered help, but also provided unending encouragement and moral support to conduct and complete this study.

First and foremost, I would like to thank the study participants and Principals of the Educational Institutes for their unhesitating and enthusiastic cooperation to a complete stranger, by providing necessary information on many issues, at the cost of their valuable time and convenience.

I feel greatly honoured in expressing my profound gratitude to my research supervisors Prof. SusmitaMukhopadhyay and Prof. Subho Roy for their continuous academic support since the inception of the study. Without their affectionate, caring and thought provoking guidance in each and every step, this work would never have been completed. Their passion for work, research insight and expertise enriched my growth as student and as a researcher. I am indebted to them for motivating me to attend various conferences, workshops and scientific programmes in India. Above all and the most needed, they provided me unflinching encouragement and gracious support in various ways which enabled me to complete the work successfully.

I convey my profound debt to Prof. Barun Mukhopadhyay for his consistent encouragement and continuous support at every step of this work. I am highly obliged to Prof. Subrata Kumar Roy and Prof. Premanandabharati for providing me academic support which facilitated this work.

I convey my gratitude to Prof. Sourav Ghosh for sharing his expertise during the data analysis and also Dr. Baidyanath Pal for help during the data analysis.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to Prof. Ashit Baran Daschauduri, Prof. Gopalkrishna Chakrabarti, Prof. Arup Ratan Bandhyopadhyay, Dr. Arnab Das, Dr. Sutapa Mukhopadhyay, for their valuable suggestions at many stages of this study. I am highly obliged to Mr. Suvendu Maji, Mr. Debasish Kumar Mondal, Dr. Monali Goswami and Mr. Subhamay Kisku for providing numerous valuable suggestions.

I would like to warmly thank the office staffs and librarian of Department of Anthropology, University of Calcutta for their administrative support and technical assistance. Office staffs of the Biological Anthropological Unit, ISI are also thankfully acknowledged for their administrative support.

Special thanks are for all the research scholars of department of Anthropology, University of Calcutta and Biological Anthropological Unit, Indian Statistical Institute for their cooperation, help and academic discussions during research work.

Many thanks go to Saptamita Paul, ParnaGhosh, MoumitaBiswa and RazinaMullick for their unparalleled assistance during strenuous field work.

I express my special thanks to Mir and Saptamita Paul for their continuous support and encouragement during my ups and downs in research work.

I express my heartfelt thanks to Dr.DoyelDasgupta and NiveditaSom who were always there for me during my time of distress with a constant source of inspiration, encouragement and support during research work.

Thanks are due to the University of Calcutta for financial and logistic support. Head of the Department of Anthropology, University of Calcutta is gratefully acknowledged for providing help and assistance various kinds. I thankfully acknowledge the help and cooperation rendered by the members of Ph.D. committee in Anthropology and Ph.D. section, University of Calcutta.

It is a unique privilege to express my veneration to my loving parents and respected in-laws for rendering practical, emotional and meticulous support in every step of my work. Needless to mention that without their continuous and meticulous assistance, I would not have been completed this thesis. I am also thankful to my nephew for his enthusiastic help during my research work. My heartiest thank goes to my sweet sister for providing me encouragement and moral support. Thank you sister for all your support!
Last but not least, I owe thanks to a very special person, my husband, Sajal Ganguly who deserves more than a written acknowledgement. He provided me all kinds of practical, emotional and scrupulous support in every step of my study. I greatly value his contribution and deeply appreciate his belief in me. I would not be who I am today without you!
