Acknowledgement

A journey is easier when you travel together. Interdependence is certainly more valuable than independence. This thesis is the end of my long journey in obtaining my doctoral degree. Over this period of time I have not traveled in a vacuum. There are some people who made this long way easier for me with words of encouragement and more intellectually satisfying by offering different places to look to expand my theories and ideas. At this moment of pride and achievement I take this opportunity to express my gratitude to all of them.

The first person I would like to thank is my mentor, Dr. Pradip K. Chakrabarti who gave me the confidence and support to begin scientific career. He always challenged me to set my benchmark even higher and to look for solutions to problems that made myself more focused and analytical. I thank him for his wholehearted encouragement, critical appreciation and independence offered for carrying out the work. Throughout my thesis-writing period, he provided sound advice, good teaching, good company, and lots of good ideas. His comments on chapter drafts are themselves a course in critical thought upon which I will always draw. His capacity to combine critique with an immediate empathy and commitment will always inspire me. With him I learned to believe in my future, my work and myself. Thank you Sir.

I owe my sincere gratitude to Dr. Amit Ghosh, former Director, IMTECH and Dr. Girish Sahni, present Director, IMTECH for providing excellent laboratory facilities and a healthy scientific environment. One would definitely wish to add Dr. Sahni’s in depth thinking ability and critical assessment regarding scientific and general issues, in his/her personality.

It gives me an immense pleasure to appreciate and acknowledge Dr. Alok K. Mondal for his indispensable help and considerate attitude during the entire course of research period. His constructive criticism and valuable suggestions have been of great value in this study.

The structural study presented in this work has been made possible by the illuminative guidance and help extended by Dr. Subramanian Karthikeyan, and Dr. Balwinder Singh. I must acknowledge Dr. Purnananda Guptasarma for his helpful suggestions and support in Dynamic light scattering and CD spectroscopy experiments. I am also thankful to Dr. K. Ganesan for his kind help during writing of patent application. I greatly acknowledge the support of Dr. Dibyendu Sarkar, Dr Tapan Chakrabarti, Dr. Girish Varshney, Dr. K. V. Radha Krishan and Dr. Manoj Raje and Mr. Rajmohan for their timely help. I thank the entire staff of animal house facility of IMTECH especially Dr. Neeraj Khatri for animal immunization and antibody generation during this period.

I express heartfelt thanks to my labmates Jyoti, Rachna, Sangeeta, Vijaya, Meghna, Haider, Pavitra, Payal, Situ, Swapna, Monika, Pratima, Bindiya, Chayya, Deepak Soumaya, Netrpal, Randep, Anupriya, Dipanwita, Renu, Parmil, Panchali, Ashok for their cooperation and constant support besides maintaining a cordial and enjoyable environment in the lab. Thanks are due to Meghna, Pavitra, and Payal for proofreading this dissertation. Time spent with Jyoti, Rachna, Sangeeta and Monika is really cherishable. Jankeyji needs a special mention as a good friend. I owe my heartfelt gratitude to Jankeyji for providing expert and efficient technical assistance and also to Amarjeetji for his help.

I will always cherish the time spent with my seniors Chitranshu, Anshuman, Kailash, Vishal, Sankar, Kislay, Deepika, Purva, Puja Sahi and Jagpreet.
I want to express special thanks to my batchmates, Pradiptra, Omprakash, Amit, Vijaya, Monika, Pooja, Dwarpayan, Arvind, Vandana, Sanjoy, Saurabh, Amrita, Manoj, Swati, and Debarati.

I appreciate the cooperation and cheerful support provided to me by all my lovable juniors especially Rohan, Narender, Shekhar, Kishore, Sankalp, Ashok, Janamjay, Shubbir, Arshad, Sudipto, Suhail, Kamlash, Lomary, Anuradha, Suman, Sudeep, Neetu, Shilpi, Snehlata, Richa, Loveena, Rachna, Amit bhattacharya, Mannan, Sanjeev, Akesh, Manish, Manish Dutt, Anuj, Mirage, Pankaj Chauhan, Arun, Mohan, Mahesh, Robin, Mitesh, Arvind.

The enjoyable company of Pradiptra, Vijay, Murti, and Vibhu reserves a special mention. Words fail to justify the unending support, care and affection showered by my friends Pradiptra. Thanks to him who, was always with me to share my feelings at the end of the day.

The principle to glimpse the good in everything and give your best at whatever you do made me feel responsible. To some extent, I want to the credit of this to Monika. The constant encouragement extended by her especially at the moments when the life going gets tough is definitely a driving force behind the completion of this treatise.

The days I spent with Mohan, Rajesh, Zia, Moin, Nidhi, and Praveen during my Masters degree in Jawahar Lal Nehru, New Delhi, were unforgettable.

My acknowledgement is not complete without mentioning the names of our mess workers Ramalal, Nagpal, Pratap, Chandan, Jacob, Durga, Vipin, Lalsingh. During my stay at IMTECH, I really enjoyed the food cooked by them.

The cooperation and the kind of help rendered by the entire IMTECH family, BIC, Instrumentation, Administration, Store and Purchase section is truly acknowledged.

I thank to Dr. Anuradha Chakraborti for her warm and generous hospitality and Michelle, Guttu for nice companies during get-togethers.

I proudly and profoundly admire the faith, ineffable love, incessant inspirations, constant encouragement, silent efforts and uncomplaining co-operation of my parents that helped me see through the thick and thin of life. The gratitude for them cannot be dressed in words. Their faith in me provided myself with the strength, zeal and enthusiasm during the pursuit of my entire academic carrier. I feel fortunate enough in so far I have received the love and affection of my sister Parul, and brother Rohit, the two impeccable pillar of my strength which allowed me to tide over all the moments of trials and tribulations during the completion of this treatise. Here, I also want to mention the name of my jiju Neelanjan.

Above all, I am truly beholden to GOD, a spiritual power that I sincerely believe in. I am always thankful to almighty for whatever I am achieving during my life. My firm belief in HIM is the strength that underlies the self-belief that I have, that sails me through the vast ocean, called life.

The financial assistance provided by CSIR (Award no. 31/50(155)/2001-EMR-1) throughout my research tenure is duly acknowledged.
